MAY PUT THE OLD INCINERATOR INTO OPERATION AGAIN

Disposition of Garbage is Serious Problem Here—
Board of Health Members Inspect Old Plant in Plain Street That Was Built in 1892

The disposition of garbage in the city has reached such serious proportions that the board of health today took preliminary steps toward ascertaining whether the old city incinerator in Plain street might be reopened and again put into use after many years of idleness. The incinerator was built in 1892.

The members of the health board went to the old plant this noon on an inspection and investigation tour and will have something to report upon the feasibility of using it in the near future.

It is becoming more and more difficult to sell garbage and it has given evidence of even more accumulation

The high school building commission met last night and by formal unanimous vote accepted the new high school building from contractor Daniel H. Walker, following the receipt of commendatory certificates from the architects and building engineers.

Coupled with this action steps were instituted toward the payment of Contractor Walker of the amount of money still due him under his contract, totaling in the neighborhood of $50,000.

PATROLMAN REFUSES TO ACCEPT $2000 REWARD

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 11.—When Evelyn Bajer, 16, disappeared from her home a week ago, A. J. Markswell offered a reward of $2000 for information revealing her whereabouts. Patrolman Herbert H. WITH NO DEFICITS FOUND CITY DEPARTMENTS TURN BACK TOTAL OF $35,950

Every city department last year lived within its appropriation, no deficits were reported and total credits to the amount of $35,950, exclusive of the water department, were turned back into the treasury. Also, for the first time within memory the city auditor was not obliged to make use of the balancing order passed by the council, by which transfers are made from one department to another to balance deficits.

This in brief form is the substance of the final financial report for 1923 given out today by City Auditor Daniel E. Martin.

The water department is treated separately and finished the year with a credit balance of $14,674, which was applied to an over-hanging deficit of $17,355.07, to reduce it to $13,320.11. This department also has accounts receivable to the amount of $8515.89, which would further reduce the deficit to $6504.22.

Among the larger departments the following are picked to show the amounts returned to the treasury: Memorial Auditorium, $3087.35; buildings, $4277.52; fire, $6122.67; insurance, $1114.21; mayor's, $452.02; police, $7438; schools, $679.86; soldiers' benefits, $8974.38; workmen's compensation, $1726.02; painting bridges, $4861.74; health yard, $414.16; planning board, $208.79; elections, $13.88; isolation hospital, $414.

The street department broke even except for a slight balance amounting to about $6.

HEAVY LOSSES BY BOTH SIDES

Rebels and Federals Suffer Large Number of Casualties at Pachuca

Rebels Dynamited Building Where Federals Had Barricaded Themselves

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 10.—(Via radio, via the Fort Worth Star-Telegram) (By the Associated Press) Both the De la Huerta revolutionary forces and the federal troops suffered a large number of casualties today during fighting at Pachuca, in the state of Hidalgo, according to private information received here.

When the rebels entered Pachuca after considerable fighting, 70 federal troops barricaded themselves, according to the information here, and the rebels dynamited the building but only after the federals had poured a withering fire on the rebels, inflicting many casualties.

Federal leaders here are rushing forces to the city to retake it and according to a bulletin issued by the war department, the city will again be in the hands of the federals tomorrow. Unofficial reports reaching Mexico City, tell of a counter revolution that has broken out in the western part of a Guerrero against the De la Huerta revolutionists.

BILLS OF INTEREST TO LOWELL WERE FILED YESTERDAY

Pensions for City Laborers and an Investigation of Sanitary Condition of the Concord River Provided for in Bills Submitted by Democratic Members

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, Jan. 11.—Bills providing for an investigation of the sanitary condition of the Concord river, and for pensions for city laborers in Lowell, were filed at the state house yesterday afternoon, by democratic members of the house.

The pension bill, based on a petition signed by officials of the federation of state, city and town employees, reads as follows:

"Any laborer in the employ of the city of Lowell who has reached the age of 60 years and has been in such employ for a period of not less than 15 years and has become physically or mentally incapacitated for labor, and any laborer in the employ of said city who has been in such employ for a period of not less than ten years and has become physically or mentally incapacitated for labor."

DALY HAS PLAN FOR NEW STREET

Will Present $400,000 Order in Council For Extension of Lawrence Street

Would Bridge Concord River and Enter Other Side at Davidson Street

Councilor John W. Daly is ready to present to the city council an order and accompanying plans for the extension of Lawrence street over the Concord river to connect with Davidson street, at an estimated cost of $400,000. Some property would need to be seized and this is provided for in the order, it is understood.

About a month ago Mr. Daly asked the city engineer to prepare plans for him for such an extension, with a view toward introducing an order in the council early in 1924 and such an order now is ready. The city engineer said today that the plans were drawn up in his office and given to Mr. Daly about three weeks ago.

This plan differs from the proposition advanced by the city planning board inasmuch as it has a different point of entry on the Concord river. An extension of Lawrence street would pass directly through property now occupied by a gasoline filling station.

Andrew Bryce, 50 years of age, of 425 Traders street, was painfully and possibly seriously injured early last evening when he was knocked down at the corner of Central and Merrimack streets by a horse attached to a wagon owned by the Saunders Public Market company.

He was given first aid treatment by Dr. Harry B. Plankett, for lesions to the head and then removed to his home in the ambulance. Owing to his advanced age it is feared that internal injuries may develop within a few days.

The horse and wagon was driven by Joseph H. Tracey of 15 Abbot street, who was accompanied by three other young men.

NEW AUTO CORPORATION

Bay State Car Inc. Takes
Over the Former R. H.
Long Company

Announcement is made that a new corporation, to be known as Bay State Car, Inc., organized under the laws of the state of Massachusetts, has taken over the business, manufacturing plants and assets of every kind of the former R. H. Long company and also the R. H. Long Motors company of Framingham. The two latter concerns formerly controlled the Bay State motor car factory and sales output industry that had many outside branch houses scattered throughout New England. These concerns gave up their control interests on Dec. 13, 1923.

Contrary to widely-circulated reports to the effect that the Long factories have been closed, it is stated today that the manufacturing operations have at no time been halted and are running full today at Framingham headquarters, with orders for 1924 production adequate to meet all present demands on the factory units of output.

The new corporation controlling the well known motor car business of the new model for 1924 customers, which, together with the regular Bay State line, will be shown under the direction of Guy Murchie, who was receiver for the old company.

Mr. J. Canning is sales manager for the new company.

The Lowell offices of the new corporation are located in the same quarters as in past years—corner of Franklin and Market streets. The active sales manager is Charles M. McGuinn, who is also in direct supervisory capacity over the service department, also located on Market street. Mr. McGuinn has had a busy career in handling Bay State cars in the various sales markets. The spacious quarters for the display of the present car output show all new models for the coming year and there has been increased interest in the reorganization of the Framingham company all along the New England and eastern United States motor car line.

The financial condition of the reorganized manufacturing company appears today on a firm footing, which will aid the automobile distributors to have renewed confidence in the integrity of both manufacturers and salesmen of the busy line.

The company will have an exhibit at the Boston auto show and other shows in New England.

COMMUNITY CHEST PLAN IS ENDORSED

The community chest method of collecting money for the support of social and charitable societies was unanimously approved at a meeting of the chamber of commerce and Rotary club community chest committees and representatives of 13 local organizations last night, in the chamber of commerce headquarters.

The meeting was called to order by Elmore I. MacPhie, chairman of the chamber of commerce committee, and David Armstrong, executive secretary of the Worcester Community Chest Federation, was asked to explain the methods used in conducting the Worcester chest drive. He gave a clear-cut review of the system used in Worcester and explained briefly the system used by some of the organizations in making up their budgets and the distribution of all money collected. In the drive among the organizations belonging to the Community Chest Federation.

As soon as the representatives completed their questioning of Mr. Armstrong, Mr. MacPhie called for an expression of opinion on the community chest idea from them and the unanimous vote in favor of the plan followed. A definite vote by organizations could not be taken as the directors of several have not yet taken any action on the matter, but it is believed the organizations will also be unanimously in favor of the plan. The representatives present at last night's meeting will bring the matter before the directors of their organizations in the near future so that a definite vote may be taken and the result made known to the community chest committees of the chamber of commerce and the Rotary club.

The facts outlined by Mr. Armstrong in his address were that at the present time 100 cities in the United States are using the community chest system of handling welfare work, that in several cities the plan has been used successfully for 10 years, that $375,000 was collected in Worcester in a five day campaign last year, contributions being made by 18,000 persons, while before the inauguration of the chest plan only 2500 persons contributed to the support of the organizations.

The greatest thing in favor of the community chest plan is that it lasts but a few days whereas if every organization conducted a separate drive there would be a drive going on almost every week. It also allows the executives of the organization to center their efforts on their work rather than on plans for collecting money to support their organization. It is especially beneficial to organizations that in the past, because of the nature of their work, could not get much publicity, and were passed up by the public.

The distribution of the money, as done in Worcester, is by a council which is absolutely fair and representative to all organizations in the federation.

Mr. Armstrong advised for Lowell a moderate start and suggested that committees of each organization make a careful study of their budget before giving it to the federation workers. He also explained methods by which emergency funds were collected and then expressed himself as ready to answer questions. In the greater part the questions concerned matters discussed in his talk.

A tentative committee was named on motion of Jude C. Wadleigh, to draw up a constitution and by-laws for the federation, working on the assumption that the organizations will be in favor of joining in a community

NERVOUS SIGNS
The laws of health and hygiene provide for certain signs that show unmistakable evidence of one's physical or mental condition. If there is a greater demand or drain on your bodily powers than your system can stand, warning signs are displayed.

If you find that your sleep is not restful and you frequently awake at three or four in the morning, unable to go to sleep again, check up on your condition at once.

Do you find yourself becoming suspicious of your business associates or are you beginning to worry over the future business prospects? Are you losing your grip, through lack of exercise? Understand that running around an office or factory, keyed up to a high pitch and giving orders to somebody about something is not exercise, no matter how leg-weary you may be at night.

Do you sit in a bad posture or tap on the desk or table nervously? Your circulation is probably bad, and your diet and digestion need attention at once.

In other words, you are showing nervous signs from some cause or other. Taking stock of your bodily health is far more important than any other stock-taking.

Don't resort to a dose of medicine or some dope to bolster you up for a short time. This only puts off the smash a little longer. Don't take stimulants in order to drive your bodily powers. It's bad business.

Try a rest, if you can possibly get away. I don't mean away from home, but away from work, worry and hustle. Rest is a wonder-working tonic.

Anyone inclined to a nervous condition should not eat meat more than once a day. Use plenty of green vegetables, sea-food and milk.

Avoid tea and coffee for a month or two and mark the results. Consult your physician on a program of relaxation. Learn just what complete rest means.

Home Made Cough Mixture Considered Best

Spreads Over Membrane, Soothes, Heals and Stops Cough Almost Instantly

Costs But a Trifle

Make your own cough syrup in two minutes at home if you want the best. Simple coughs, or stubborn coughs, it doesn't matter which, this home made mixture will stop them quicker than any expensive cough syrup you can buy ready made.

It's fine for chest colds too and for acute nasal catarrh.

Get from any druggist one ounce of Parment (double strength)—to this add a little granulated sugar and enough water to make one half pint—that's all there is to it, and children like it.

Like a soothing, healing medicine one easily substance in this home made cough mixture spreads itself completely over the membrane of the throat. This causes the most stubborn hanging-on cough to cease almost instantly. No ordinary slow-acting cough syrup contains this expensive ingredient.

And remember—any remedy that soothes catarrh, partially or wholly, is bound to be of benefit to those who are troubled with head noises and catarrhal deafness.

Get Parment and get better.—Adv.

LIFE UNDERWRITERS

HOLD MEETING

Invitations extended not only to members but to all life underwriters in Lowell and vicinity were responsible for a large attendance at a special meeting called by Lowell Life Underwriters' association yesterday. President James P. Heron, superintendent of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company presided.

The purpose of the meeting was to form a new association to be affiliated with the National Association of Life Underwriters' Association. For many years, the Lowell association has been affiliated with the Boston Life Underwriters and through that body with the national organization. The local association has grown until it now has reached a point where it has seemed desirable to affiliate directly with the national body.

Yesterday's gathering was the largest ever held in Lowell for life underwriters. Representatives of various companies, managers, special and regular agents, were present. The vote was unanimous when the proposition to change over into a new and independent life underwriters' association was suggested. Temporary officers of the new association elected yesterday were as follows: James P. Heron, president; M. J. Brady, secretary-treasurer; John A. McLaughlin, William Keaton, Clifford R. Leadbetter and George H. Spillane.

The temporary organization being formed, a nominating committee was appointed by the chairman, consisting of the following: Norris W. Benoit, chairman; William Canton, Charles McKinnon, A. Gordon Foster, George H. Spillane, Frank J. Huber, William Keaton, Clifford R. Leadbetter, Merle A. Twissell and Edward J. McCabe. This committee is to bring in a list of officers to be acted upon at the next meeting of the association.

The principal address of the afternoon was delivered by A. Gordon Foster, of the Aetna Life Insurance offices in this city, who gave an instructive discourse on the value and importance of the present economic conditions for attempting to render best insurance service. Various specific lines of "business" were discussed also, recognition of the part of life underwriters of the creation of an estate that would be payable to the policy holder in the event of a monthly income for life, also giving necessary protection in event of death. This is regarded as one of the most important plans that the younger man can have presented to him today.

Mr. Foster was congratulated by the members for his intimate talk and excellent advice. Other speakers included Charles S. McKinnon, of the Phoenix Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for free medical advice.—Adv.

Albany, N. Y.—"When I came to middle life I began to go down in health. I would have nervous spells, my stomach was bad and I was miserable. I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and I had taken only a bottle or two when I felt much improved. I kept up its use and was completely built up in health. I feel grateful to Dr. Pierce for the wonderful help his Favorite Prescription gave me and I am always ready to speak a word in its favor to other women who suffer as I did." Mrs. Wm. Stephens, 221 Livingston Ave.

ARTICLES IN TOWN

MEETING WARRANT

Numerous articles of much importance covering various town projects from highways to public schools and transportation are being prepared for insertion in the annual Billerica town meeting warrant. The February gathering of the voters of both sexes promises to be an interesting one from start to finish.

More money is needed not only for regular town expenses and care of schools and public buildings, but for numerous special projects such as paving of new fire hydrants, repairing old roads, building new street connections, extending street lighting service to East Billerica and the Tewksbury town line, to convey land grants, extend water mains and increase the water supply by digging new wells.

Shawshoan school is due for more attention, with requests made for town appropriations to cover proposed repairs and land gradings. The problem of roadside brush cutting is also coming up for discussion, and there is an article calling for an additional water loan.

Scoutmaster Edwin A. Pearson of the Dracut Boy Scouts organization announces that a members' rally will be held at the regular meeting place at the centre tomorrow evening, starting at 7.30 o'clock. James Morris of the state department of forestry will address the members. Troop 6 of Centerville will attend the meeting and the public is also invited.

TO SPEAK AT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETING

Sir William A. Lloyd of Sydney, Australia, will be the speaker at a membership luncheon of the chamber of commerce in Liberty hall next Wednesday at 12.15 p. m., and will speak on the subject, "America and the Near East."

Persons not belonging to the chamber but who desire to attend the luncheon next Wednesday may secure reservations at the office of the chamber and the public is invited to occupy seats in the balcony of Liberty hall during Sir William's talk.

Serving in the Australian army in Egypt and the holy land during the World war and as a correspondent in the Near East for five years after the war, Sir William is well equipped to talk on the Near East and the American relief for the people of the war-torn and ravaged lands of Armenia.

Green and the smaller principalities of lower Europe and Asia Minor. He has received commendations from rulers of these lands and was knighted into the Order of the Holy Sepulchre by the British ruler. He came to this country to visit friends made in the Near East and intended to leave for Sydney some time ago. After making one appearance as a public speaker, he was so much in demand by people and organizations he felt unable to refuse that he has extended his visit. He leaves Lowell after his address next Wednesday to complete his trip home to Australia, his first visit in many years to the land of his birth.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Murray & Alan stand well to the front on the present week's bill at the B. F. Keith theatre, giving their most amusing travesty on the art of juggling as it is supposed to be. The act is in the time of King Tut. Another act on the bill is the "Intimate Song Recital" of Vivian Holt and Myrtle Leonard. This is a New York attraction, which has received many encores. One of the greatest of juggling acts ever presented here is that of the Five-Peas, four men and a woman. Burns & Allen also have a very classy act, made up of fun and song. It is really of a high order. Others on the bill are Rhodes & Watson, two pretty singing girls, and Max York, with his education. "Singing Top" the picture featuring Douglas MacLean, is one of the best high class comedy pictures ever shown here.

HARRY LAUDER HERE JAN. 13

Good seats may be obtained for the engagement here on Friday afternoon and evening, Jan. 13, of Sir Harry Lauder, the internationally famous Scotch comedian and singer. The demand thus far has been large, although there still remain good seats for both performances. Lauder will be surrounded by his own vaudeville show.

CONSOLIDATION OPPOSED
BY WEEKS AND DENBY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Opposition to the proposed consolidation of the war and navy departments under the departmental reorganization plan was reiterated today by Secretary Weeks and Secretary Denby, who again appeared before the congressional reorganization committee.

The testimony of the secretaries was in part a rebuttal to recommendations placed before the committee of W. P. Willoughby, director of the Institute for governmental research, who advocated the consolidation as a means of promoting greater efficiency.

GIRLS CITY CLUB

John Murray, recreational expert from the National Playground association, is in Lowell for a few days this week. He has spent some time at the Normal school and with other groups. Tonight at 8:30 he will visit the Girls City club and play many new games and teach the latest ideas to all interested. The girls club is a very active organization and many playground teachers or others to come to the club tonight. It is a rare opportunity for all.

MIDNIGHT CALL

A telephone alarm at 12:12 this morning called the attention of the power house of the Eastern Mass. St. Ry. Co. on Middlesex street, where all in an electric generator had caught fire.

program is "A Wife's Romance," starring the notable actress, Clara Kimball Young, in a story of a wife who is neglected by her husband. The latter is absorbed in his humanitarian work in other countries and when he fails to give his wife the love and romance she yearns for, she turns to another admirer. The resulting climax is most absorbing.

The usual excellent surrounding program is also being shown.

MADAME X

The early seat sale on Madame X, next week's attraction at the Lowell Opera House, shows that a heavy patronage will be the rule throughout. Madame X and that the popular Madame X. The story of a woman who is neglected by her husband. The latter is absorbed in his humanitarian work in other countries and when he fails to give his wife the love and romance she yearns for, she turns to another admirer. The resulting climax is most absorbing.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

"The Love Test," one of the most famous and most interesting rural comedy dramas ever shown here, is being presented in a series of five shorter afternoon and evening at the Lowell Opera House. The stock players have a snappy vehicle in this offering. Fern Chandler and John Rowe spread the funny stuff on each other groups. Earl Andrews as the mother is certain to pull upon the heartstrings. Jack Bayard as the village constable is a scream.

Seats may be obtained by phoning 261. After tonight's show there is but the matinee and evening performances of tomorrow during which this snappy performance may be seen. It is a snappy number and shouldn't be missed.

THE STRAND

William S. Hart, the original "two-gun man of the screen," will be seen in his newest and considered by many his best picture, story of the west, "The Cold Deck," at the Strand during the week-end. The star receives the help of Sylvia George, Ann Reichenau and Mildred Harris. The latter combined effect result in a truly worth while picture. You will get a pleasing variety of pathos, romance, thrills and tense situations. The second feature presents Herbert Rawlinson in "The Clean Up," a story of a supposedly worthless lawbreaker, who eventually "finds himself." You can't afford to miss this picture. It has everything mostly desired by the average picture patron.

Over eighty thousand readers daily will have an opportunity to read your ad if you place it in The Sun, Lowell's greatest advertising medium.

Get the Friday night habit at Willie's.

JENNY LIND RECITAL AT THE AUDITORIUM

Although she never shows as an inventor, Jenny Lind is responsible for the parlor car to a great degree. When the Swedish Nightingale was brought to this country by T. Barnum she spent much of her time in traveling from city to city, and to reduce the uncomfortable conditions of touring to a minimum she had the seats of an ordinary car removed and the vehicle furnished with chairs, tables and other pieces of furniture appropriate to a parlor.

She called it her "parlor car" and from that term sprang the designation still applied to coaches de luxe on the rail.

JACKIE COOGAN'S KEENEST RIVAL IS MICKEY BENNETT

MICKEY BENNETT IN TWO POSES

BY MAURICE DENLE
NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Many new faces come to the screen—and pass quickly. They are blurred faces. You can't remember them. That is the rule. The exception, of course, is when a new face appears and makes a lasting impression. That's the beginning of stardom, of fame in the electric lights, of fabulous salaries, of practical idolatry from a worshipping public.

Mickey Bennett, a babe of a child who came to Broadway last week in his first co-starring vehicle, Rex Beach's "Big Brother," completely captured the hearts of the fans who saw him. Mickey takes the part of Midge Murray, a little ten-minute egg, as tough as you would care to see them.

Just as Charlie Chaplin deserves a large measure of credit for discovering the possibilities in Jackie Coogan, so must Allan Dwan receive the thanks of the public for bringing Mickey Bennett to the front. His direction of the tot is just about perfect. He utilizes to full advantage the lad's wonderful variety of expression. So that if honors are to go around, we'd give Dwan more than Mickey himself.

Tom Moore also has much to do with the lad's future seemingly assured prosperity and popularity. So do Edith Roberts and Raymond Hatton. These four accomplished artists have all they had to the film. They appear to be working, not with him, but for him. That is, they seem to be taking a personal interest and responsibility for Mickey's success.

So that the names, Moore, Hatton, Dwan and Miss Roberts, should sink deep into Mickey's memory. They made him. He will reap the harvest. Mickey knows as a doted rival of both Jackie Coogan and Ben Alexander, Ben's latest, "Boy of Mine," the Booth Tarkington story, played across the street at the Strand, First National's stronghold. He drew as much favor from the public as did Mickey.

If anything, Ben and Mickey are greater competitors than Mickey and Jackie. Jackie must put a few more years on his shoulders before coming into the Bennett-Alexander age. All in all, this seems to be an era of child movie actors. But public favor really travels in circles. One day boys are good drawing cards. The next day houses in which their pictures show are as popular as the measles.

SHOW AT AUDITORIUM

Chorus of 150 Boys and Girls in "Let's Go!"—
Tuesday Night's the Night

"Let's Go!"

This is the slogan which every member of the local Knights of Columbus and a couple of thousand other musical enthusiasts hope to carry into execution when the show of that title is presented in the Memorial Auditorium next Tuesday night for the K. of C. guild.

If the title suggests action (and it does), the real goods are sensational. A chorus of 150 boys and girls, all interested in the success of the presentation, and anxiously awaiting the curtain to introduce their long-prepared parts to the public, a cast of individual characters like Ed Slattery, Sadie Sheehan, Ed Cawley, Lillian Chaloux, Jack McArdle, Bertha Cawley, Danny Brennan, Mary Lander, George Sullivan, Mae Conway, John Barker, Grace Healey, Tom Kelley, Madeline Finnegan, Tim Finnegan, the Devire sisters and innumerable others and an orchestral accompaniment headed by William H. Quinn. "Let's Go" promises to be the fulfillment of a desire long entertained by the Knights of giving the show having, popular a clever, peppy, persuasive and original production, such as "Let's Go" is proving to be.

Specialties of every conceivable nature have been prepared by Director

William S. Orr of Boston, whose personal opinion of "wonderful" is worthy of consideration in a discussion of the show. Elaborate and gorgeous costumes are expected to arrive shortly, the riotous colors having been selected after a great deal of deliberation. But four days more remain before the final presentation. Tickets may be procured in down-town stores or at the K. of C. rooms.

RADIO FANS HAVE NOTHING TO FEAR

BY ISRAEL KLEIN.

N.E.A. Service Writer

Recent reports that wired wireless, under government supervision, will replace the present system of radio need bring no fears to the dyed-in-the-wool radio fan. Receiving concerts through rented sets only, and over accredited electric light or power lines, may be the outcome of present difficulties in broadcasting, but loopholes present themselves.

England started broadcasting to radio sets that were rented from the manufacturers. There was a general system of co-operation between manufacturers and government, by which concerts were to be paid for through rentals and licenses for receiving sets.

But the officials and radio engineers failed to include the real fan, the amateur who makes his own set with what little wires and tubes and other paraphernalia he can collect. Setting up a monopoly in such a "commodity," it is found, is practically impossible.

Attempt at Solution

So the British have tried to solve their problem by reducing the license fee and trying to induce outsiders to pay the lower tolls. That is left altogether to the discretion of the out-law fans, who can't be routed out whatever the inducement, and who can go on listening in on the broadcast concerts.

A similar situation may be expected in this country if the practice of renting and licensing radio sets is put into effect. In fact, the number of out-law fans would be proportionately greater in this country than in England, as the number of radio fans here is today. And in England, the officials estimate 200,000 out-law radio sets are in use.

Leave it to the ingenuity of the American amateur to find a way out. He can build any kind of a set with the scraps he has on hand, and he can find a way to tune in even on the wired form of wireless.

Try to Stop 'Em

The result of a monopoly in radio broadcasting might be a monopoly in the manufacture of radio sets for rental only. But parts would also be built and these parts would easily go into the individual sets that amateurs will put up for their own use. How can they be stopped?

Limitation of manufacture of radio sets and parts, and institution of a fee on the manufacturer for each set, might be even a better way to collect funds for payment to the lecturers, singers and others who are asked to broadcast their specialties. Monopoly of broadcasting by wired wireless—the light and power companies—seems to be just as good an answer to the problem of broadcasting as has been the unsuccessful British monopoly.

LICENSES FOR MOTOR VEHICLE OPERATORS

Renewals of licenses for operators of motor vehicles are now being handled by the Lowell branch registry in the Montean building, providing the applicant has a form for such purpose mailed from the state headquarters in Boston. These forms were mailed some time ago to every operator and are to be used in requesting renewals. Those blanks may be secured upon application, by mail or in person, at the main registry in Boston.

Restoration of lost or revoked licenses will as usual be handled only through Registrar Goodwin in the main office.

LOWELL POLICEWOMEN MAKE ANNUAL REPORT

The annual report of the Lowell Policewomen's office, released today and presented to Supr. Thomas H. Atkinson contains an interesting resume of the vast amount of work done during the past twelve months. The itemized report prepared by Miss Emily M. Skilton reads as follows:

Girls, New, this year 109

Lamb is lower at Willis' market.

WHY WOMEN LOOK 60 AT 40

With dark circles under their eyes, hollow cheeks, drawn expressions, drooping shoulders, a lagging step, many women of forty have the appearance of women of sixty. In many cases this condition is caused by overwork or neglect of such warning symptoms, as headaches, backache, nervousness, displacements, and irregularities which indicate ailments peculiar to women. If all women so afflicted would only rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound it would restore them to a normal healthy condition, and the premature signs of age will soon disappear. Adv.

There are three policewomen employed by the city, Miss Emily M. Skilton, Miss Martha Costello and Miss Emma V. DesForges. There are two women at the office who have been appointed as special policewomen by the city, Miss Mabel G. Armstrong and Miss Lynn R. Croppan, the former employed by the Florence Crittenton League, appointed in 1923, and the latter employed by the Lowell Catholic Charitable bureau, appointed in 1922. Miss Armstrong is also a Teachers' Aid worker and wears the badge of that organization. The policewomen have a detention room at 202 South street, supported by the Florence Crittenton society, four kids and girls without money or friends, of every nationality, can find shelter there. The Florence Crittenton society also appropriates money for the examination of mental cases, which is a great advantage and greatly appreciated.

Miss Costello has been quiet, but effective service at the G.B. clinic, week by week, holding conferences with the girls and women patients, and making necessary calls on those who neglect treatments and fail to attend the clinic regularly.

Miss DesForges and Miss Croppan take care of the French work of the office.

Policewomen accompany policemen when they commit women prisoners to institutions.

Through the efforts of this office, Miss Sarah Inebian was appointed special policewoman of Braintree last summer and gave most satisfactory service at the dance halls.

"It will be noticed in reading the above statistics that during the past year the parents in 245 different homes have called at the office with complaints, and 376 girls have come to our attention. Scarcely one of these girls could be censured for being responsible for her misfortune or misconduct. Investigation in most of these cases places the blame on the parents who spend their time quarreling and arguing over trivial disagreements.

"Can we wonder," says Miss Skilton in her report, "that girls prefer the glamour and excitement of the outside world—the dance, the automobile, the big feeds, the camp-all of which is enjoyment to them compared to the drudgery and confusion in their own homes."

"Our office has placed during the past year 131 girls, outside of their own homes, in other homes. We have eleven girls under our own guardianship through the probate court, and have had guardians appointed over three others. Two of these girls called at the office to express their gratitude, that they had been saved from a wretched home.

"It is a part of the work of our office to collect on the dance halls, skating rinks, and theatres, and this we have done to the best of our ability.

"We have at all times the co-operation of all the churches of the city, and state organizations. We also have the co-operation of the officers, lawyers, physicians, hospital, newspapers and many personal friends. We could not have done the work of 1923 without the support and assistance of those.

"One our desire and purpose for 1924 is that our office shall be of the greatest possible service to all the people of Lowell."

TODAY'S CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Meer Arfinsky was found not guilty of operating an automobile in a manner endangering the lives and safety of the public, and not guilty of operating without a registration, in district court this morning.

Charles Koczera pleaded guilty to illegally keeping liquor, and paid a fine of $100. John H. Keane entered a plea of not guilty to a similar complaint and was continued in 1924 until Jan. 15.

Thomas J. Brown, drunkennes, was fined $10, and Stanley (Dudek), drunkennes, was fined $5.

Continued to Monday next was ordered in the case of Joseph Millette, charged with assault and battery.

CONCERT POSTPONED

The concert of the Academy of Music, which was scheduled for Sunday evening, Jan. 13th, and the proceeds of which were to be devoted to the promotion of the work in Troops 35 and 36, Boy Scouts of America, the two organizations of that kind on the Greek community, has been postponed until Monday evening, Jan. 14th at 8 o'clock at the same place.

Is Guilty of Manslaughter

therefore, guilty of manslaughter.

It is alleged that Aveseneault was the driver of the Ford coupe which collided with a truck being driven by Jacob Weiss on the North Chelmsford-Tenashorn boulevard about 5 o'clock in the afternoon of November 25. In the terrible crash, Daniel Sullivan, whose home was in Maine, Eunice, Surlin of Cambridge and Marie Beaulieu Geoffrey of Lowell received injuries which resulted in their deaths. Aveseneault was seriously injured, but is now on the road to recovery.

The inquest finding states that "Aveseneault was driving the machine at a rate of speed estimated at 30 miles an hour, for which there was no justification."

Other Inquests

Two other inquest reports were submitted to the clerk of court this morning. One concerned George M. Holmes, 20, who was killed by a Boston & Maine passenger train near the Talbot Chemical mill in Billerica on Dec. 8th. Holmes, who was employed in the B. & M. shops, was walking along the railroad tracks when struck by the train. The inquest states that death was not caused by criminal negligence on the part of the Boston and Maine railroad, or its officers, agents or servants, according to the finding, are not held criminally responsible.

The third inquest is an exoneration of Robinson and Robeson, contractors, by whom Patrick Clark was employed when he received fatal injuries while working in an excavation on Clark road. A cave-in caused a fractured pelvis, resulting in death on Clark road. The contractors, according to the finding, are not held criminally responsible.

FOR MILITARY TRAINING

No Need of Citizens' Committee to Arouse Interest in Training Camps

Lowell needs no committee of one thousand or even one hundred citizens to pave the way to enrollment of Lowell boys in the citizens' military training camps to be held the coming summer at Camp Devens and at Fort H. G. Wright, Long Island Sound.

Sergeant Kimball, of the United States army recruiting station, on Central street, and Major F. J. Toohy, of the Organized reserves, Merrimack street, have been authorized to select candidates for the summer camps just as they did last season, when the sergeant listed between 20 and 30 candidates and had them all accepted, and Major Toohy did fully as well in the selective process.

Reports that it might be necessary to establish citizens' committees in some cities to arouse interest in the training camp programs, do not include Lowell.

"Why should they need any crowded committees here?" queried Sergeant Kimball. "We don't need any committees. Look at the fine lunch we sent away last year to Devens right from Lowell and nearby precincts. There were no rejections when they sent them. You can see in 'The Sun' that Major Toohy, of the Organized Reserves, and myself will handle the selecting process and fill the Lowell quota for the Devens and Long Island Sound camps as we did last season."

Major Toohy said he has rendered

aid in this work as reported by Sergeant Kimball, and felt that Lowell would this season unquestionably turn out more eager candidates for the camp training enlistments than may be accommodated, which was the case last season, although Lowell's quota last year was not so large as this year's number.

The campaign for Lowell members, supposed to start on Jan. 1, has been a little slow getting underway for January is a slow month in campaigns of all kinds after the hectic holiday periods and "let-downs" of most all community campaign round-ups for any particular cause. Today, however, preparations are in actual progress for the 1924 citizens' training camps and they will be sure to see New England better represented than ever.

During the past three years more than 2,000 boys have been through the prescribed course at these two places. There are more chances this year for boys in training to win army assignments and the incentive is such that more applicants are expected from every quarter.

Major-General Andrew W. Brewster, commander of the First Corps area, Eastern headquarters, which includes all New England, declares that there is no better opportunity presented to young men to fit themselves effectively to deal with the problems of American citizenship than is now being offered by the war department in the form of military training camps.

The camps are to be conducted this season for young American citizens between the ages of 17 and 24. A candidate is under no expense. His uniform, hat, shoes, leggings and other articles of outer clothing will be furnished by the army without cost to the students who return these articles at the end of the course. The allowance for food and other necessities on the trip. The allowance for returning home will be given him.

zens' military training camps state try in the importance of military training as a benefit to the individual making such training, and as an asset in the problems of national development. The purpose that they are designed to serve, as follows: To develop closer national and social unity by bringing together young men of all types, both native and foreign born, to teach the principles, duties and responsibilities of American citizenship to stimulate the interest of the youth of this country.

TANGO STEPS OF COUNT WON MISS ROGERS

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—The tango steps of Count Ludwig Sulu-Yon-Hongstrueten are said to have captured the heart of Millcent Rogers and brought her to the altar at city hall last Tuesday when they arrived without wedding rings all because it was so sudden. The tango steps, however, are said not to have been an appealing to the young woman's parents and there are reports that Col. H. H. Rogers, father of the bride, frowned severely on the match, because the count is an Austrian and divorced.

HOUSE WAS BADLY DAMAGED BY FIRE

An unoccupied house at 120 High St. was badly damaged late last night by a fire of unknown origin which broke out in a closet on the second floor and had spread into the partitions and into a blind attic before being discovered.

An alarm from box 52 was sounded at 11 o'clock. Upon the arrival of the fire apparatus the whole second floor of the building and a section of the roof were ablaze. Before the fire could be extinguished it was necessary to rip out partitions and bring into play several lines of hose. The result was sounded at 11:30 o'clock.

Chief Saunders investigated the fire but, owing to the fact that all evidence near where the fire started was completely destroyed, was unable to make a definite decision as to the cause. He believes, however, that boys playing in the house during the day may have left some incendiary material in the closet that later burst into flames.

BUREAU OFFICIAL REMOVED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—W. E. Lunt, district manager of the Federal Bureau of Investigation at New York, has been relieved by Inspector Quinn, pending a complete investigation of charges that Lunt had been held in the district office there and that Lunt was carried to a dinner at a hotel in a veteran's bureau automobile.

WILL CLOSE THEIR ENGAGEMENT HERE

Victor Browne and Hazel Corinne, leading players of the Lattiniger Stock company here, today made known that they will close their engagement in Lowell a week from tomorrow night.

Mr. Browne is an old Lowell favorite. He first appeared here a dozen or fifteen years ago. He has been leading man with the present company for the past two seasons and has many friends. Miss Corinne opened the season here with the company and is an actress of pleasing personality and exceptional talent.

Their future plans were not disclosed. The management of the Opera House announced new leading players will open Jan. 21 in "Little Old New York." Many theatre-goers assumed that inasmuch as Malcolm MacLeod and Edna Earl Andrews are to play the leads in Madame X next week that they might be continued as leaders when Mr. Browne and Miss Corinne leave. Such is not the case, however.

Next week with Madame X as the main attraction, will be "farewell week" for the present leading members of the popular company.

APPROPRIATION ESTIMATE BLANKS

Appropriation estimate blanks for 1924, already ordered by the budget and audit commission, will be ready for distribution to departmental heads early next week and it is expected that a maximum time allowance of one week only will be given for their submission to the commission. Although this time allowance may seem short, it is taken for granted that all departments have been working on their 1924 figures and not more than a week after receipt of the estimate blanks will be necessary for their completion. It is expected, therefore, that all estimates for the current year will be in the hands of the budget commission by the 22nd at the latest.

SEVERAL HURT IN WRECK

HENTSVILLE, Ala., Jan. 11.—Several persons were reported hurt in a wreck of Southern Railway Memphis Special No. 26, east-bound for New York, near Chase, Ala., today. Four cars are reported in the ditch.

THE MEN WHO BUILT THE BIG CHIMNEY

Thousands of Lowell citizens have wondered and shivered as they gazed askance at husky workmen appearing to be no larger than Lilliputians constructing the new 215-foot steel smokestack at the Lowell Electric Light corporation plant on Ferry st., as described in Thursday's Sun. Most of the sky-gazers have desired to know where the hairy steel workers came from and who they might be.

Here they are, then—five in all, a mighty courageous collection of muscle and steady nerves though small in composite numbers—who have built the new smokestack of steel shells and expertly riveted them together with five-pound bolts from bottom to top without dropping a bolt.

William French, William Gustin, Arthur Ringer, "Jim" Pearson and "Jack" French, all of Boston.

The big five are all members of Boston local No. 7, Bridge and Structural Iron Workers. The "gang" is employed by the structural steel concern, Daniel Murr & Son of South Boston, builders of many iron smokestacks and tall chimneys in many sections of the country.

HOUSE DISCUSSES APPROPRIATION BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—General discussion of the interior department appropriation bill continued in the house today while its foreign affairs committee resumed consideration behind closed doors of the resolution introduced by Representative Fairchild, republican, New York, to prohibit the sale of government war materials to other nations.

The senate was in recess over the week-end.

Former Marine Will Try to Lead Ohio Staters Back to Grid Fame

"TEE" YOUNG.

By N.E.A. Service.
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 9.—The family Bible, he's plain "Frank Dewey Young." To Ohio State students, he just "Tee" Young.

In the "Who's Who" of high school and college athletes, however, he can show you a string of achievements and a dock of titles that will make your eyes bulge. But you'll never get him to do it. "Tee" is too modest. He'll talk about anything but himself.

Somewhere in the records of the U. S. Marines, if you search long enough, you'll find further trace of this same Frank D. Young. With a little more diligence you'll discover that he served 17 long months with the "Gyrenes" in San Domingo and that he took part in several engagements there.

That, in brief, is the most of the life story of Young, who, as captain-elect of the Ohio State university football team, is looked upon as the biggest lead the Buckeyes get in the wilderness where they have been wandering for two long years.

"Tee" is a product of the famous Watts high school of Toledo. As a high school athlete he won eight letters in four sports, the most, with one exception, accumulated by a Toledo high school athlete up to 1920. Young won four letters in football at Watts high and was captain of the team in his senior year. He acquired in the outfield on the baseball team, tossed the weights in track and held down a guard job in basketball.

When he came to Ohio State as a freshman in the fall of 1920 he was adjudged the most physically perfect freshman in a class that numbered perhaps 1000 in the ensuing year. "Tee" and lost none of his Adonis-like attributes.

In the interim he has served as tackle and center on the varsity eleven, finally landing as a regular at the latter berth. He did not play in 1922 and consequently is available for the 1923 season.

Young, as a sophomore, also won his letter in basketball as a guard in 1921-22.

"Tee" is one of the most popular students here in a number of years. He is a junior in the engineering college and a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

To complete the record, it should be added that he is 24 years of age, weighs 160 pounds and is 6 feet in height.

IMPORT SNOW FOR MEET

15,000 Cubic Feet Brought

Into New York for Exhibition by Skiing Team

BIRMINGHAM, N. Y., Jan. 11.—In 20 motor trucks workers today began hauling 15,000 cubic feet of snow to Birmingham, over an ascending two miles road from the Seaboard station of the New York Central railroad, where it arrived yesterday in six gondola cars from Thompsonville, a little hamlet town in the Adirondacks.

Delivery of the snow at the club will complete one of the most spectacular efforts ever made to supply the New York City public with thrills. It was shipped from Thompsonville in a ski-jumping sled and landing platform for the American Olympic skiing team at its public exhibition Sunday before sailing to compete in the Olympic in France. The proceeds will help finance the team's trip abroad.

When arrangements were made for the exhibition it was anticipated there would be snow on the ground here, but to guard against disappointment arrangements were made with the railroad to supply snow if none fell. Wednesday the railroad hurried all its mountain stations and a four-inch fall was located at Thompsonville, 288 miles from here.

The task today was to transport the snow up the hill to the lodge, two miles from the station. The team is expected to arrive today from Minneapolis with its manager, Mayor George L. Koch, of that city, to supervise construction of the ski jump.

The snow will be spread in a loose ribbon, starting with a width of five feet and gradually broadening to 40 feet at the landing at the bottom of a hill where it will be packed two feet deep. A huge stack of hay will be placed at the end of the snowslide to prevent the fall of any skier traveling out of bounds and telegraph poles and trees against which the jumpers might strike, will be provided with bumpers of straw.

O'HEARN GETS INTO ACTION

Forced to the sidelines in football with a cracked ankle, Charley O'Hearn, Yale's most versatile athlete, is now back in harness leading the Blue hockey team.

O'Hearn got into competitive action for the first time this season in a recent match against the Cleveland Indians and gave a brilliant performance.

O'Hearn probably would have been an outstanding star in the Yale basketball team had he not suffered a serious physical mishap.

O'Hearn's record in the 40 yard dash by one-fifth of a second.

Three A.A.U. records were shattered during the 220 yard breast stroke in 3:15. He formerly held the record at 3:25. Morris Lutz, of the University of Iowa, plunged the 60-foot tank in 16:25, breaking the former record of 17:45 held by Hickey of the University of Iowa. Kingman, of the University of Iowa, broke his own A.A.U. record of 59:25 in the 100 yard free style by swimming the event in 48:45.

To Report at Next Session

Mr. Achlin's bill, empowered to add two registered voters to the town as members of the commission. These added members would have full voice and vote in the commission and deliberations of the commission. Authorization for the city to appropriate funds to carry on the work of the commission is provided.

Mr. Achlin's statement.

It is not proposed," said Mr. Achlin this morning, "to take any town or section of any town unless the residents thereof express a willingness to become a part of the greater city. In recent years Lowell has lost its position as the third largest city in the commonwealth and has fallen to sixth place. Lawrence and Haverhill now threaten to pass us. In searching about for the reason of Lowell's slower progress it has become very apparent that our restricted and limited area is the main reason for the lack of growth. The accompanying table is proof:

	Square miles
Boston	35.2
Worcester	35.0
Springfield	32.2
Fall River	37.8
New Bedford	26.1
Lowell	11.1

From the point of view of population the two tables below show how we have failed to keep up with our sister cities.

Population, year 1920:
(1) Boston	44,127
(2) Worcester	21,550
(3) Springfield	15,500
(4) Fall River	14,308
(5) Springfield	14,119
(6) New Bedford	10,744

Population, year 1920:
(1) Boston	715,063
(2) Worcester	133,514
(3) Springfield	129,611
(4) New Bedford	121,217
(5) Fall River	120,455
(6) Lowell	117,773

"Immediately adjoining Lowell are populous sections of towns and in my opinion of the residents of these sections the really part of Lowell, because they earn their living here and are part of our social, commercial and industrial life. If these sections remain as they are they will show no great improvement for many, many years, while as part of the greater city they will receive many advantages that a city can extend to the citizens within its borders.

"We have very few sites to offer to new industries who might desire to establish themselves here, while our buildings are excellent locations in the city but live, progress is being made in installing themselves in town and much prefer city centers and address.

"This investigation would lead to a comprehensive expansion for a greater Lowell, which is bound to come very soon and is only interested in the city as a whole, the leading cities of Massachusetts, fully convinced that the expansion of adjoining territory is essential to Lowell's natural growth."

The annexation bill.

BIG JOB NOW TO KEEP CRIMINALS OUT OF PHILADELPHIA

Brig. Gen. Butler Well Satisfied With Campaign to Rid City of Vice and Crime—New Men Replace Eight Police Officers Suspended Yesterday

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press.) Leaving for his home early today to snatch a few hours' sleep, Brig. Gen. Smedley D. Butler expressed satisfaction with conditions as he had found them at the end of the fourth day of his campaign to rid the city of vice and crime.

"We shall drive right along," said the general. "Any knock that appears in the machinery will be taken out so that it will run smoothly." He said he believed that most of the law breakers had been run out of the city and that the big job now was to keep them out.

The general took no time in hitting the places of the six police lieutenants and two sergeants suspended yesterday when, at the end of the 48 hour limit, they had failed to clean up their districts to his satisfaction. But, he said, the replacements will have to show they mean business. "They will be given 48 hours in which to clean up, and if they don't do it, they'll go."

Under the civil service commission law, the suspended men will have five days in which to show cause why they should not be demoted. Unless they are successful in so doing, the general said, they would be sent back to the ranks of the patrolmen and given beats in the various districts.

While Gen. Butler was shaking up the executive personnel of the police, raids on questionable resorts were being carried in nearly every district in the city.

TAX BILL COMES BEFORE BONUS

House Republicans Favor Reporting Tax Bill Before Acting on Soldiers' Bonus

Ways and Means Committee Instructed to Report Tax Bill Before Feb. 11

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Instructions have been given the house ways and means committee to report the tax bill on or before Feb. 11. After that date, it is to take up soldiers' bonus legislation to determine whether an adjusted compensation bill should be reported.

The program was decided upon last night at a conference of house republicans who refused, however, to pledge themselves to the passage at this session of Congress of either tax or bonus legislation.

Representative Longworth, the party leader, with others who believed taxation should have the right of way, checked the faction advocating bonus action at every turn.

At the outset of the meeting, which was behind closed doors, Mr. Longworth proposed that the ways and means committee be instructed to continue consideration of the tax bill "to the exclusion of all other general legislative propositions," with a view to making a report by February 11, at which time it should proceed to consideration of bonus legislation.

Two amendments were offered to the Longworth resolution and both were rejected.

Representative Fairchild of New York, proposed a stipulation that a bonus bill be reported "as soon as possible." This proposal was rejected 119 to 67. The other amendment offered by Representative Fish of New York, a war veteran, fixed February 25 as the latest date for a report on bonus legislation. On a roll call the amendment was lost, 109 to 87.

The church of which Dr. William Norman Guthrie is rector may withdraw, unless Bishop Manning at a meeting Monday with Dr. Guthrie and his vestrymen consents to continuance in St. Mark's church and parish hall of alleged pagan services to which he recently took exception.

Monday is the expiration day of a (time allowance given Dr. Guthrie at a recent meeting when Bishop Manning was understood to have notified the rector to halt "pagan" or altogether "obscene" symbolic services, including dances in which scantily clad young women took part.

Mrs. Bassett Refuses to Talk With Husband Back From Florida
British Prognosticator Says Mexico City Will Be Destroyed Tomorrow

Remains in Back of Post-office While Husband Was Out Front to See Her
Fear-Stricken People Preparing to Flee—Volcano Emitting Smoke

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 11.—(Via radio from the Fort Worth Star-Telegram) The Associated Press. The revolution has been expected from the public mind and the front pages of newspapers here in the last few days of the prophecy of a British prognosticator that Mexico City would be destroyed by an earthquake and volcanic eruptions tomorrow. As a result of the prophecy, fear has gripped the mind of the ignorant, superstitious classes and for the last few days they have been crowding the churches.

Many are preparing to leave on short notice for the suburbs to escape the coming disaster.

The fear-stricken people have taken as an ill omen the fact that the volcano Popocatepetl, overlooking the city, has been emitting smoke in the early morning of the last few days. Colored reports of events of the outside world are being cited by believers of the prophecy. They point to recent news displays of the extreme cold in the United States, storms of the British coast, floods in France, avalanches in the Alps and recent earthquakes and disturbances in the states of Sonora and Chihuahua as proof for their belief.

Bassett, summoned by Mrs. Sanderson from her Florida orange grove which he had been managing was located by his wife as he walked back to the postoffice where she was waiting. He went straight to the postoffice after visiting Mrs. Sanderson in New York and resuming his job. He explained his resignation was due to unfortunate publicity, which had been given him and Mrs. Sanderson. The novelist had telegraphed her to come home and arrange his domestic affairs.

He told newspapers that Mrs. Bassett was mistaken in her view of his relations with the novelist. Mrs. Bassett said that Mrs. Sanderson asked her to get a divorce and it had been said by her lawyer that the contemplated no fault proceeding of any kind involving her husband.

Mrs. Bassett kept in the back of the postoffice behind a partition while her husband was out front trying to see her. After waiting some time Bassett left the office and later Mrs. Bassett was driven in a friend's automobile.

ANNUAL ST. PATRICK'S DAY CONVENTION

The annual St. Patrick's day convention of the local divisions of the A.O.H. will be held in Liberty hall, Memorial Auditorium, next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Representatives of the United Irish societies of Lowell and suburbs will be in attendance.

This will mark the third convention held in this city. Its purpose is to determine on a St. Patrick's day celebration. In past years, this organization was responsible for elaborate St. Patrick's day parades, charity and relief fund concerts, last year a concert was held in the Memorial Auditorium in aid of the A.O.H. building fund and proved a big success.

It is expected that Rev. John J. McGarry D.D., pastor of St. Patrick's church will be present and speak at next Sunday's meeting; also Mayor Donovan and Daniel J. Murphy, the oldest member in the state.

The present officers of the organization are: President John Barrett, secretary, Stephen Flynn, treasurer, Thomas J. Fitzkeald.

LOWLY SINKER DROPS IN COST

The lowly sinker, as synonymous to breakfast coffee as bacon is to eggs, has fallen from the dizzy altitudes reached in the price boosting processes of 1918 and for the first time in five years is back at the old price of two for five.

One of the principal food foundries in the square this morning had its counter placarded with the good news. Of course the doughnuts are a little less in diameter but then, as the counterman suavely explained, the hole is bigger.

He figures that by selling two doughnuts for a nickel instead of one, the average person will buy two cups of coffee instead of one. There's some logic there.

INCOME TAX RETURNS

Over 100 income tax returns have been filed at the federal office in the postoffice building in Gosham street thus far, in the ten days that have passed since they were first mailed. This number is a large increase over the number returned in a similar period last year, and officials at the office stated this morning that so far all the returns had been accompanied by checks for the full amount due instead of the first installment, as is allowed by the government regulations, indicating that there is more ready money among the people of this section this year.

Record of Local Office Held Up as Achievement Worthy of Emulation

The Lowell division of the Organized Reserve finds all other unit divisions of the Reserve recruiting department in the whole country in the number of men enlisted and commissioned. In no other city in the country has the reserve met with such success that Maj. Toohy.

MAJ. FRANCIS J. TOOHY, C.A.C.

Local executive officer, has been complimented on several occasions by his superior officers for the results obtained by the Lowell office.

The local office was opened here in March, 1922, with Major Francis J. Toohy, C.A.C., as executive officer. In April Maj. Toohy was appointed executive officer of the reserve for the coast defenses of Boston and immediately began recruiting for the Coast Artillery Reserve. To assist Private Howard Mitchell in the clerical work connected with the Coast Artillery recruiting, Private Ronald E. Falls, a Lowell boy with two years regular army service, was detailed to the Lowell office.

First Reserve Band in Nation

At the present time the total enlisted strength of all units allotted to the Lowell office is 135 the majority being non-commissioned officers. Commissions have been granted 187 applications, ranging from second lieutenant to lieutenant colonel. In addition there has been formed the 28th P. A. band of over 25 pieces, the first army strength band to be recruited into the Organized Reserve.

At a meeting of the reserve executive officers in Boston Tuesday complete mobilization plans were given to the executive officer of each unit, and in case of emergency these confidential plans will be put into immediate use.

Plan Summer Training

Plans for the training of Reserve units were also discussed at this meeting and it was decided to train by unit this summer instead of by groups of various classification. It is expected that two Lowell coast defense companies will be ordered to the coast artillery training camp and one artillery and one engineer company to Devens.

MAY PUT THE OLD INCINERATOR INTO OPERATION AGAIN

Disposition of Garbage is Serious Problem Here—
Board of Health Members Inspect Old Plant in Plain Street That Was Built in 1892

The disposition of garbage in the city has reached such serious proportions that the board of health today took preliminary steps toward ascertaining whether the old city incinerator in Plain street might be revamped and again put into use after many years of idleness. The incinerator was built in 1892.

The members of the health board went to the old plant this noon on an inspection and investigation tour and will have something to report upon the feasibility of using it in the near future.

It is becoming more and more difficult to sell garbage and it has given evidence of even more accumulation and this has led the board to take the present action. Time was when there were more applications for the purchase of it at $1.25 per load than could be accommodated, but the demand has fallen off perceptibly.

The health authorities have found that the demand for garbage is dependent to a great extent upon the market price of pork. When it is low the demand decreases and when it soars the demand follows suit, for farmers resort to hog raising. The board has had fairly good success in disposing of garbage during the past few months, but in view of the future and sees a need for investigating the old incinerator with a view toward using it if the occasion demands.

Rebels and Federals Suffer Large Number of Casualties at Pachuca

Rebels Dynamited Building Where Federals Had Barricaded Themselves

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Details of the drive of Obregon's forces against Vera Cruz, were outlined in a message received today by Alberto Mascareñas, consul-general of Mexico, from the Mexican war department.

Ten thousand men under the command of Gen. Eugenio Martínez began the march on Vera Cruz yesterday, said the message, while another column of 5,000, headed for the isthmus of Tehuantepec. Rebel forces, it declared, would be forced to withdraw troops from other positions to avoid being caught between two fires.

Four hundred rebels from the ranks of Gen. Mayaguez at Tehuacan, the war department announced, had surrendered unconditionally to Gen. Topete.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 11.—(Via radio, via the Fort Worth Star-Telegram) (By the Associated Press) Both the De la Huerta revolutionary forces and the federal troops suffered a large number of casualties today during fighting at Pachuca, in the state of Hidalgo, according to private information received here.

When the rebels entered Pachuca after considerable fighting, 10 federal troops barricaded themselves, according to the information here, and the rebels dynamited the building but only after the federals had secured a withdrawal fire on the rebels, inflicting many casualties.

WITH NO DEFICITS FOUND CITY DEPARTMENTS TURN BACK TOTAL OF $35,950

Every city department last year lived within its appropriation, no deficits were reported and total credits to the amount of $35,950, exclusive of the water department, were turned back into the treasury. Also, for the first time within memory the city auditor was not obliged to make use of the balancing order passed by the council, by which transfers are made from one department to another to balance deficits.

This in brief form is the substance of the final financial report for 1923 given out today by City Auditor Daniel E. Martin.

The water department is treated separately and finished the year with a credit balance of $1146.74 which was applied to an overhanging deficit of $17,355.07, to reduce it to $15,320.11. This department also has accounts receivable to the amount of $8515.89, which would further reduce the deficit to $6804.22.

Among the larger departments the following are picked to show the amounts returned to the treasury: Memorial Auditorium, $3087.35; buildings, $4277.52; fire, $6322.07; insurance, $1114.21; mayor's, $452.62; police, $7438; schools, $629.86; soldiers' benefits, $8074.38; workmen's compensation, $1726.02; painting bridges, $4564.74; health yard, $114.16; planning board, $208.70; elections, $13.88; isolation hospital, $414.

The street department broke even except for a slight balance amounting to about $5.

VENIZELOS TO FORM CABINET

Decides to Become Premier Himself—Roussos as Foreign Minister

Venizelos Acts After Gen. Danglis Failed to Form Ministry

ATHENS, Jan. 11 (by the Associated Press).—Premier Venizelos decided this morning to form a cabinet in which he will be premier without portfolio, with Georges Roussos, republican leader, as foreign minister, as the only possible solution of the protracted governmental crisis.

M. Venizelos reached his decision after Gen. Danglis, who consented yesterday to endeavor to form a ministry, had failed in the attempt despite an all-night effort.

Gen. Danglis' failure caused the keenest disappointment in Venizelos, and his decision to become premier himself was taken as apparently the only course remaining open.

Would Restore Lost Prestige to City Which is Greatly Desired

Cambridge and Lawrence Both Threaten to Pass Us in Population

Commission Given Power to Add Extra Members From Towns Involved in Plan

Mayor to Name Seven, With Council's Approval, to Join Planning Board

A bill intended to bring to a desired consummation the plans for a greater Lowell was today filed by Representative Henri Achin, Jr. The bill provides authorization for the appointment of a greater Lowell commission to investigate all phases of all plans and projects, this commission to report with recommendations at the next annual session of the general court.

The loss of prestige by the city of Lowell, which in the past thirty years has slipped from the position of third city of the commonwealth to sixth place, and is threatened with relegation to eighth place within a few more years, has spurred Representative Achin to introduce the bill. Lawrence and Cambridge both threaten the present position of Lowell in the population table of Massachusetts cities.

The proposition of Mr. Achin is that a commission composed of the planning board of the city and six other members, residents of Lowell, appointed by the mayor and confirmed by the council, be named within 30 days after the passage of the act. This commission, which is to elect its own officers and to serve without compensation, would be empowered to add members from surrounding towns and to hold hearings on the proposals both in Lowell and in surrounding towns.

In any town where it is proposed to annex territory the commission, by Continued to Page 17

LOWELL CASE IN THE FEDERAL COURT

Claiming that evidence procured by Lowell police vice squad members is inadmissible in federal court because the officers were improperly present when they conducted a still belonging to Manuel Ferreira of Boston, Atty. Thos. Reynolds of Lowell presented a unique defense before Federal Judge Brewster in Boston today.

Ferreira is charged with illegal possession. Under the federal practice evidence must be legally obtained. Mr. Reynolds claimed Gen. Palmer and his cohorts, C. Noel and L. May were beyond their rights in securing the evidence against Ferreira. An admission of guilt was entered and the case continued for three weeks for conferees.

Report to The Sun
Boston, Jan. 11.—Bills providing for an investigation of the sanitary condition of the Concord river, and pensions for city laborers in Lowell, were filed at the state house yesterday afternoon, by democratic members of the house.

The pension bill, based on a petition signed by officials of the federation of state, city and town employees, reads as follows:

Any laborer in the employ of the city of Lowell who has reached the age of 40 years and has been in such employ for a period of not less than 15 years and has become physically or mentally incapacitated for labor, and any laborer in the employ of said city who has been in such employ for a period of not less than ten years and has become physically or mentally incapacitated for labor, shall be entitled to a pension.

DALY HAS PLAN FOR NEW STREET

Will Present $400,000 Order in Council For Extension of Lawrence Street

Would Bridge Concord River and Enter Other Side at Davidson Street

Councilman John W. Daly is ready to present to the city council an order and accompanying plans for the extension of Lawrence street over the Concord river to connect with Davidson street, at an estimated cost of $400,000. Some property would need be seized and this is provided for in the order, it is understood.

About a month ago Mr. Daly asked the city engineer to prepare plans for him for such an extension, with a view toward introducing an order in the council early in 1924 and such an order now is ready. The city engineer said today that the plans were drawn up in his office and given to Mr. Daly about three weeks ago.

This idea differs from the proposition advanced by the city planning board inasmuch as it has a different point of entry on the church street side of the river. An extension of Lawrence street would pass directly through property now occupied by a gasoline filling station.

NEW AUTO CORPORATION

Bay State Car Inc. Takes
Over the Former R. H.
Long Company

Announcement is made that a new corporation, to be known as Bay State Car, Inc., organized under the laws of the state of Massachusetts, has taken over the business, manufacturing plants and assets of every kind of the former R. H. Long company and also the R. H. Long Motors company of Framingham. The two latter concerns formerly controlled the Bay State automobile factory and sales output industry that had many outside branch houses scattered throughout New England. These concerns gave up their control interests on Dec. 15, 1923.

Contrary to widely-circulated reports to the effect that the Long factories have been closed, it is stated today that the manufacturing operations have at no time been halted and are running full speed at Framingham headquarters, with orders for 1924 production adequate to meet all present demands on the factory units of output.

The new corporation controlling the well known motor car announces a new model for 1924 customers, which, together with the regular Bay State line, will be shown under the direction of Guy Murchie, who was receiver for the old company.

Mr. L. Cumming is sales manager for the new company.

The Lowell offices of the new corporation are located in the same quarters in many years—corner of Shattuck and Market streets. The new sales manager is Charles M. McGinnis, who is also in direct supervisory capacity over the service department, also located on Market street. Mr. McGinnis has had a busy career in handling Bay State cars in the various sales markets. The spacious quarters for the display of the present line of output show all new models for the coming year and there has been increased interest in the reorganization of the Framingham company all along the New England and eastern United States motor car line.

The financial condition of the reorganized manufacturing company places it today on a firm footing, which will aid the automobile distributors to have renewed confidence in the integrity of both manufacturers and salesman of the busy line.

The company will have an exhibit at the Boston auto show and other shows in New England.

meeting will bring the matter before the directors of their organizations in the near future so that a definite vote may be taken and the results made known to the community chest committees of the chamber of commerce and the Rotary club.

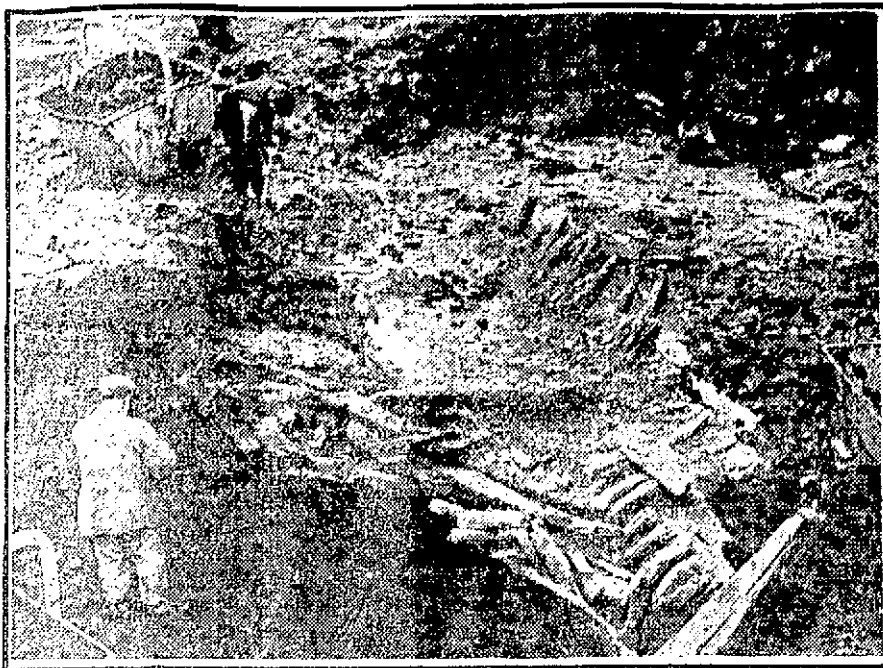

The facts outlined by Mr. Armstrong in his address were that at the present time 130 cities in the United States are using the community chest system of financing welfare work, that in several cities the plan has been used successfully for 10 years, that $275,000 was collected in Worcester in a five day campaign last year, contributions being made by 18,000 persons, while before the inauguration of the chest plan only 2500 persons contributed to the support of the organizations.

The greatest thing in favor of the community chest plan is that it lasts but a few days whereas if every organization conducted a separate drive there would be a drive going on almost every week. It also allows the executives of the organization to concentrate their efforts on their work rather than on plans for collecting money to support their organization. It is especially beneficial to organizations that in the past, because of the nature of their work, could not get much publicity, and were passed up by the public.

The distribution of the money, as done in Worcester, is by a council which is absolutely fair and representative to all organizations in the federation.

Mr. Armstrong advised for Lowell a committee of each organization make a careful study of their budget before giving it to the federation workers. He also explained methods by which emergency funds were collected and then expressed himself as ready to answer questions. In the greater part the questions concerned matters discussed in his talk.

A tentative committee was named, on motion of Judge C. Wadleigh, to draw up a constitution and by-laws for the federation, working on the assumption that the organizations will be in favor of joining in a community

COMMUNITY CHEST PLAN IS ENDORSED

The community chest method of collecting money for the support of social and charitable societies was unanimously approved at a meeting of the chamber of commerce and Rotary club community chest committees and representatives of 13 local organizations last night in the chamber of commerce headquarters.

The meeting was called to order by Elmore I. MacPhie, chairman of the chamber of commerce committee, and David Armstrong, executive secretary of the Worcester Community Chest Federation, was asked to explain the methods used in conducting the Worcester chest drive. He gave a clear-cut review of the system used in Worcester and explained briefly the system used by some of the organizations in making up their budgets and the distribution of all money collected in the drive among the organizations belonging to the Community Chest Federation.

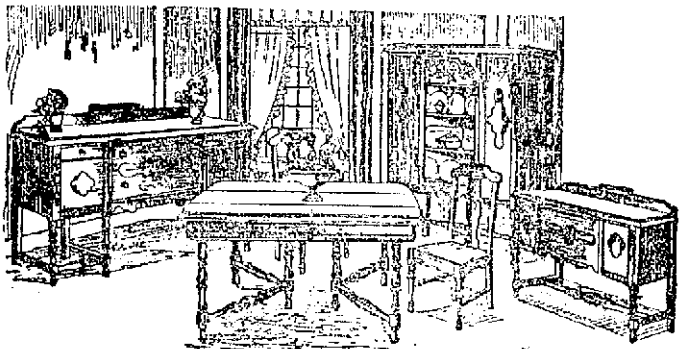

As soon as the representatives completed their questioning of Mr. Armstrong, Mr. MacPhie called for an expression of opinion on the community chest idea from them and the unanimous vote in favor of the plan followed. A definite vote by organizations could not be taken as the directors of several have not yet taken any action on the matter, but it is believed the organizations will also be unanimously in favor of the plan. The representatives present at last night's

by Dr. C.C. Robinson
NERVOUS SIGNS

The laws of health and hygiene provide for certain signs that show unmistakable evidence of one's physical or mental condition. If there is a greater demand or drain on your bodily powers than your system can stand, warning signs are displayed.

If you find that your sleep is not refreshing and you frequently awake at three or four in the morning, unable to go to sleep again, check up on your condition at once.

Do you find yourself becoming suspicious of your business associates or are you beginning to worry over the future business prospects? Are you losing your grip, through lack of exercise? Understand that running around an office or factory, keyed up to a high pitch and giving orders to somebody about something is not exercise, no matter how leg-weary you may be at night.

Do you sit in a bad posture or tap on the desk or table nervously? Your circulation is probably bad, and your diet and digestion need attention at once.

In other words, you are showing nervous signs from some cause or other. Taking stock of your bodily health is far more important than any other stock-taking.

Don't resort to a dose of medicine or some dope to bolster you up for a short time. This only puts off the smash a little longer. Don't take stimulants in order to drive your bodily powers. It's bad business.

Try a rest, if you can possibly get away. I don't mean away from home, but away from work, worry and hustle. Rest is a wonder working tonic.

Anyone inclined to a nervous condition should not eat meat more than once a day. Use plenty of green vegetables, sea-food and milk.

Avoid tea and coffee for a month or two and mark the results. Consult your physician on a program of relaxation. Learn just what complete rest means.

Home Made
Cough Mixture
Considered Best

Spreads Over Membrane, Soothes,
Heals and Stops Cough Almost Instantly

Costs But a Trifle

Make your own cough syrup in two minutes at home if you want the best. Simple coughs, or stubborn coughs, it doesn't matter which, this home made mixture will stop them quicker than any expensive cough syrup you can buy ready made.

It's fine for chest colds too and for acute nasal catarrh.

Get from any druggist one ounce of Parmit (double strength)—to this add a little granulated sugar and enough water to make one half pint—It's all there is to it, and children like it.

Like a soothing, healing poultice one mostly substance in this home made cough mixture spreads itself completely over the membrane of the throat. This causes the most stubborn hang-on cough to cease almost instantly. No ordinary slow-acting cough syrup contains this expensive ingredient.

And remember—any remedy that overcomes catarrh, partially or wholly, is bound to be of benefit to those who are troubled with head noises and catarrhal deafness.

Get Parmit and get better.—Adv.

FINED FOR DODGING TAXES

BEAUVAIS, France, Jan. 11.—Desire Windal, a wholesale wine merchant, has been ordered to pay 467 separate fines and penalties for dodging taxes. The total amount is well over 1,000,000 francs.

1,000,000 FEET OF FILM BURNED

BRISBANE, Australia, Jan. 11.—More than 1,000,000 feet of film were burned here yesterday in a fire on the premises of the Fox Film Co. The loss is estimated at £50,000.

SWEDEN SURROUNDED BY ICE BARRIER

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 11.—Sweden is surrounded by an impenetrable ice barrier. Eleven steamers are drifting in the flocs off Gothenburg, where the ice is especially menacing to navigation. The Baltic sea is entirely frozen. Two steamers are imprisoned in the ice near Gelfe on the Gulf of Bothnia.

BOY ATTACKED BY BOAR

DUXBURY, Jan. 11.—Earl Belnap, the 14 year old boy attacked by a boar in his mother's yard yesterday, was said by physicians today to have been seriously but not dangerously injured. Reports that the lad had been cured of permanent dumbness by the fright were denied by those in charge of his case, who said that Earl had always been able to make inarticulate sounds, and that his condition in that regard was unchanged.

LIFE UNDERWRITERS HOLD MEETING

Invitations extended not only to members but to all life underwriters in Lowell and vicinity were responsible for a large attendance at a special meeting called by Lowell Fire Underwriters' association yesterday. President James P. Heron, superintendent of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company presided.

The purpose of the meeting was to form a new association to be affiliated with the National Association of Life Underwriters' Association. For many years, the Lowell association has been affiliated with the Boston Life Underwriters and through that body with the national organization. The local association has grown until it now has reached a point where it has seemed desirable to affiliate directly with the national body.

Yesterday's gathering was the largest ever held in Lowell for life underwriters. Representatives of various companies, managers, special and regular agents, were present. The vote was unanimous when the proposition to change over into a new and independent life underwriters' association was suggested. Temporary officers of the new association elected yesterday were as follows: James P. Heron, president; M. J. Brady, secretary-treasurer; John J. McFadden, William Nealon, Clifton R. Leadbetter and George H. Spillane. The temporary organization being formed, a nominating committee was appointed by the chairman, consisting of the following: Norris W. Benoit, chairman; William Cantor, Charles McKenzie, A. Gordon Foster, George H. Spillane, Frank J. Hubin, William Nealon, Clifton R. Leadbetter, Merle A. Twitchell and Edward J. McCabe. This committee is to bring in a list of officers to be acted upon at the next meeting of the association.

For Women

In Middle Life, Maidenhood, Womanhood, Motherhood. At all those periods Women Should Heed this Advice

Albany, N. Y.—"When I came to middle life I began to go down in health. I would have nervous spells, my stomach was bad and I was miserable. I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and I had taken only a bottle or two when I felt much improved. I kept up its use and was completely built up in health. I feel grateful to Dr. Pierce for the wonderful help his Favorite Prescription gave me and I am always ready to speak a word in its favor to other women who suffer as I did."—Mrs. Wm. Stephens, 291 Livingston Ave.

Women who suffer from headache, backache, flashes of heat, dizziness, fainting spells, nervousness or exhaustion should get at once to their neighborhood druggist and get a bottle of Favorite Prescription. In tablet or liquid. Or write Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y. for free medical advice.—Adv.

formed, a nominating committee was appointed by the chairman, consisting of the following: Norris W. Benoit, chairman; William Cantor, Charles McKenzie, A. Gordon Foster, George H. Spillane, Frank J. Hubin, William Nealon, Clifton R. Leadbetter, Merle A. Twitchell and Edward J. McCabe. This committee is to bring in a list of officers to be acted upon at the next meeting of the association.

The principal address of the afternoon was delivered by A. Gordon Foster, of the Actina Life Insurance office in this city, who gave an instructive discourse on the value and importance of the agent's acquiring accurate knowledge of the prospect's needs before attempting to render best insurance service. Various specific lines of "coverage" were discussed also, reference being made to the growing recognition on the part of life underwriters of the creation of an estate that would be payable to the policy-holder in the form of a monthly income for life, also giving necessary protection in event of death. This is regarded as one of the most important plans that the younger man can have provided to him today.

Mr. Foster was congratulated by the members for his intimate talk and excellent advice. Other speakers included Charles S. McKenzie, of the Phoenix Life, William Cantor, of Century, Ryan & Co., and Norris J. Benoit, superintendent of the Prudential.

Some of the newest tunics come within four inches of the hem of the skirt and form a tunic as well as a bodice.

Piles

Can't Be Cured From the Outside. Internal treatments seldom cure Piles.

Nor do surgical operations. The cause is inside—bad circulation. The blood is stagnant, the veins faulty.

The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead. To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send a fresh current through stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it.

Dr. S. Leonhardt, M.D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in 1000 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at druggists' (Drug Store) who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.—Adv.

ARTICLES IN TOWN

MEETING WARRANT

Numerous articles of much importance covering various town projects from highways to public schools and transportation are being prepared for insertion in the annual Billerica town meeting warrant. The February gathering of the voters of both sexes promises to be an interesting one from start to finish.

More money is needed not only for regular town expenses and care of schools and public buildings, but for numerous special projects such as placing of new fire hydrants, repairing old roads, building new street lighting, extending street lighting service to East Hillside and the Traskbury town line, to convey land across, extend water mains and increase the water supply by digging new wells.

Shawheen school is due for more attention, with requests made for town appropriations to cover proposed repairs and land gradings. The problem of roadside brush cutting is also coming up for discussion, and there is an article calling for an additional water loan.

DRAUGHT BOY SCOUTS

Scoutmaster Edwin A. Pearson of the Draught Boy Scouts organization announces that a members' rally will be held at the regular meeting place at the center tomorrow evening, starting at 7:30 o'clock. James Morris of the state department of forestry will address the members. Troop 6 of Centerville will attend the meeting and the public is also invited.

Members of the Lowell Y's Men's club visited Lawrence last night to attend the charter night observance by the Lawrence Y's Men's club. I. W. Haley, international secretary, was the principal speaker. A musical athletic program was enjoyed. Those from Lowell who attended were A. D. Grant, N. H. Parham, Charles Ellis, Neil Douglas, Arthur Bowden, Clifford Lattimer, Oscar Grahm, Dana Hart, J. E. Hollingworth, Al. Brooks, Harold Scott, Leon Abbott, Carlton Milliken and R. H. Lincoln.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

TO SPEAK AT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETING

Sir William A. Lloyd of Sidney, Australia, will be the speaker at a membership luncheon of the chamber of commerce in Liberty hall next Wednesday at 12.15 p. m. and will speak on the subject, "America and the Near East."

Persons not belonging to the chamber but who desire to attend the luncheon next Wednesday may secure reservations at the office of the chamber and the public is invited to occupy seats in the balcony of Liberty hall during Sir William's talk.

Serving in the Australian army in Egypt and the holy land during the World war and as a correspondent in the Near East for five years after the war, Sir William is well equipped to talk on the Near East and the American relief for the people of the war-torn and ravaged lands of Armenia, Greece and the smaller principalities of lower Europe and Asia Minor. He has received commendations from rulers of these lands and was knighted into the Order of the Holy Sepulchre by the British ruler. He came to this country to visit friends made in the Near East and intended to leave for Sidney some time ago. After making one appearance as a public speaker, he was so much in demand by people and organizations he felt unable to refuse that he has extended his visit. He leaves Lowell after his address next Wednesday to complete his trip home to Australia, his first visit in many years to the land of his birth.

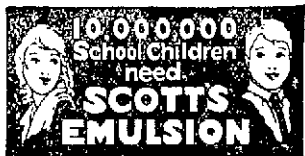

ANNOUNCES COURSE IN MUSIC APPRECIATION

The state department of university extension announces a course in music appreciation to begin tomorrow evening at 7.45 o'clock in the music room at the Lowell high school. The course consists of ten lectures under the direction of Stuart Mason, well known composer and faculty member of the New England Conservatory of Music, who will serve as instructor.

The course is intended to develop a more intelligent appreciation of music by teaching the essentials of listening. Topics discussed will not be the same as those covered in last year's course and no technical knowledge of music is necessary. The course may be taken simply as a series of lectures without any outside preparation on the part of a student, or, if a student wishes, the two "up-to-date" reports on exam certificates will be granted only to those who complete all of the assigned work.

Two men are killed and a woman injured in a battle between officers and citizens and the notorious "Ashley game" in the Florida everglades.

JACKIE COOGAN'S KEENEST RIVAL IS MICKEY BENNETT

MICKEY BENNETT IN TWO POSES

BY MAURICE HENLE
NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Many new faces come to the screen—and pass quickly. They are blurred faces. You can't remember them. You don't want to remember them. That is the rule. The exception, of course, is when a new face appears and makes a lasting impression. That's the beginning of stardom, of names in electric lights, of fabulous salaries, of practical idolatry from a worshipping public.

Mickey Bennett, a mile of a child who came to Broadway last week in his first go-starting vehicle, Rex Beach's "Big Brother," completely captured the hearts of the fans who saw him. Mickey takes the part of Mike Murray, a little ten-minute egg, as tough as you would care to see them.

Just as Charlie Chaplin deserves a large measure of credit for discovering the possibilities in Jackie Coogan, so must Allan Dwan bring the thanks of the public for bringing Mickey Bennett to the front. His direction of the tot is just about perfect. He utilizes to full advantage the lad's wonderful variety of expression. So that if honors are to go around, we'd give Dwan more than Mickey himself.

Tom Moore also has much to do with the lad's future. He has assured property and popularity. So do Edith Roberts and Raymond Hutton. These four accomplished artists gave all they had to the film. They appear to be working, not with him, but for him. That is, they seem to be taking a personal interest and responsibility for Mickey's success.

So that the names, Moore, Hutton, Dwan and Miss Roberts, should sink deep into Mickey's memory. They made him. He will reap the harvest.

Mickey looks as a decided rival of both Jackie Coogan and Ben Alexander. Ben's latest, "Boy of Mine," the Booth Tarkington story, played across the street at the Strand, First National's stronghold. He drew as much favor from the public as did Mickey. If anything, Ben and Mickey are greater competitors than Mickey and Jackie. Jackie must put a few more years on his shoulders before competing into the Bennett-Alexander age.

All in all, this seems to be an era of child movie actors. But public favor really travels in cycles. One day boys are good drawing cards. The next day houses in which their pictures show are as popular as the movies.

SHOW AT AUDITORIUM

Chorus of 150 Boys and Girls in "Let's Go!"—
Tuesday Night's the Night

"Let's go!"

This is the slogan which every member of the local Knights of Columbus and a couple of thousand other musical enthusiasts hope to carry into execution when the show of that title is presented in the Memorial Auditorium next Tuesday night for the K. of C. Guild.

If the title suggests action (and it does), the real goods are sensational. A chorus of 150 boys and girls, all interested in the success of the presentation, and anxiously awaiting the curtain to introduce their long-prepared parts to the public; a cast of individual characters like Ed Slattery, Sadie Sheehan, Ed. Carley, Lillian Chuloux, Jack McArchie, Bertha Choquette, Danny Brennan, Mary Landry, George Sullivan, Mac Conway, John Baxter, Grace Healey, Tom Kelly, Madeline Finnegan, Tim Finnegan, the Devine sisters and innumerable others and an orchestral accompaniment headed by William H. Quinn, "Let's Go" promises to be the fulfillment of a desire long entertained by the Knights of giving the show loving, popular, a clever, peppy, persuasive and original production, such as "Let's Go" is proving to be.

Specialties of every conceivable nature have been prepared by Director

William S. Orr of Boston, whose personal opinion of "wonderful" is worthy of consideration in a discussion of the show. Elaborate and gorgeous costumes are expected to arrive shortly, the riotous colors having been selected after a great deal of deliberation, but four days more remain before the actual presentation. Tickets may be procured in downtown stores or at the K. of C. rooms.

STOCK MARKET

Stock prices displayed a firm tone at the opening of today's trading, buying being influenced by a decision of the House republican caucus to take early action on the tax reduction bill. The advance spread over a broad list with Baldwin, Davidson Chemical and General Electric rising a point or more in the first few minutes of trading. There were a few heavy spots.

Strength of the general list was used to cover heavy profit-taking in the low priced rails, New Haven, Wash. and Portland, each dropping a point. Cils were strong, Houston, Maryland and Tidewater rising 1 1/2. Goodyear preferred, White-Corbin preferred and Alameda Sugar all advanced a point or more while American Express and T. B. Harlowe preferred were heavy. Foreign exchanges were steady. French francs establishing another new record low at 4.81 cents.

With few exceptions prices of industrial and speculative were elevated during the active trading. The market was not railroad shares were supplied steadily, many stocks losing a point or more. Sugars, chemicals and other goods were generally steady with considerable activity in various low-priced specialties, the action of the latter suggesting pool operations. American Bank Note moved up four points and Commercial Solvent, R. Thelmer Oil, Wilkshire-Spencer Steel, Sears Roebuck, General Electric and Warner Bros. and General Asphalt and Pierce Arrow preferred two points.

Coupled with that action steps were instituted toward the payment to Contractor Walker of the amount of money still due him under his contract, totaling in the neighborhood of $80,000.

LOWELL BOY ESCAPES FROM REFORM SCHOOL

(Special to The Sun)

WORCESTER, Jan. 11.—Escaping a guard in his dormitory, John Charters, 15 years old, of 85 Beach street, Lowell, escaped early this morning from the Lowell Boys' Reform School at Worcester, according to information given out there today. An alarm was broadcasted to police throughout the county in an attempt to pick the lad up. It is believed that he will try to make his way back to friends in Lowell.

He was described as being tall for his age, dark complexioned, and was dressed in the clothes worn by school inmates.

Charters' escape was successful through the fact that other boys in the same quarters with him held the attention of a monitor.

FOR MILITARY TRAINING

No Need of Citizens' Committee to Arouse Interest in Training Camps

Lowell needs no committee of one thousand or even one hundred citizens to pave the way to enrollment or Lowell boys in the citizens' military training camps to be held the coming summer at Camp Devens and at Fort A. G. Wright, Long Island Sound.

Sergeant Kimball, of the United States army recruiting station, on Central street, and Major F. J. Toohy, of the Organized reserves, Merrimack street, have been authorized to select candidates for the summer camps just as they did last season, when the sergeant listed between 30 and 40 candidates and had them all accepted, and Major Toohy did fully as well in the selective process.

Reports that it might be necessary to establish citizens' committees in some cities to arouse interest in the training camp programs, do not include Lowell.

"Why should they need any crowd of committees here?" queried Sergeant Kimball. "We don't need any committees. Look at the line bunch we sent away last year to Devens right from Lowell and nearby precincts. There were no rejections when they got there, either. You can in The Sun that Major Toohy, of the Organized reserves, and myself handle the selecting process and fill the Lowell quota for the Devens and Long Island Sound camps as we did last season."

Major Toohy said he has rendered

aid in this work as reported by Sergeant Kimball, and felt that Lowell would this season unquestionably turn out more eager candidates for the camp training enlistments than may be accomplished, which was the case last season. Although Lowell's quota last year was not so large as this year's number.

The campaign for Lowell members supposed to start on Jan. 1, has been a little slow getting underway for January is a slow month. In campaigns of all kinds after the hectic holiday periods and "let-downs" of most all community campaign round-ups for any particular cause. Today, however, preparations are in actual progress for the 1924 citizens' training camps and they will be sure to see New England better represented than ever.

During the past three years more than 5000 boys have been through the prescribed course at these two places. There are more chances this year for boys in training to win army assignments and the incentive is such that more applicants are expected from every quarter.

Maj.-Gen. Andrew W. Brewster, commander of the First Corps area, Boston headquarters, which includes all New England, declares that there is no better opportunity presented to young men to fit themselves effectively to deal with the problems of American citizenship than is now being offered by the war department in the form of military training camps.

The camps are to be conducted this season for young American citizens between the ages of 17 and 24. A candidate is under no expense. His expenditure for the trip from his home to the camp is made up to him on arrival at camp, at the rate of five cents a mile. This not only pays railroad fare, but includes an allowance for food and other necessities on the trip. The allowance for returning home will be given him before he leaves camp.

Uniforms, hats, shoes, leggings and other articles of outer clothing will be furnished by the army without cost to the students who return these articles at the end of the course. The only things the candidate needs to furnish is underclothing and toilet articles.

The regulations for the 1924 citizens' military training camps state: The purpose of these camps is to develop closer national and social unity by bringing together young men of all types, both native and foreign born, to teach the principles, duties and responsibilities of American citizenship to stimulate the interest of the youth of this country.

REPUBLICANS ROUTED

In the fight for the chairmanship of the Interstate Commerce committee in congress, the republican insurgents have helped elect the democratic candidate Senator Ellison D. Smith of South Carolina. This indicates that the faction of radicals headed by La Follette holds the balance of power between the two great parties and whether the republicans will be able to control the action even of the senate, is now very doubtful.

This action on the part of the La Follette faction may be a notification of what will follow in similar contests, unless the republicans grant concessions to the insurgents. Whether the break will result in an understanding between the republicans and the insurgents under which the latter will vote "regular" or whether it is the signal for a final and irrevocable split remains to be seen.

The fight over the priority of the bonus or the taxation measure is the next to be settled and the insurgents may be able to dictate the settlement in this matter also, if they join the democratic majority, for it is understood that on the bonus question the party is not a unit by any means. For the remainder of the session it is probable that the insurgents will use their voting strength to secure every point of advantage possible in favor of the policies they represent.

We do not believe that the democratic leaders have made terms with them or offered them any concessions in lieu of their support in contests in which the insurgents can throw the victory to one side or the other as they please. The republicans in congress are now likely to find themselves in a helpless condition much similar to that of the democrats during the last two years of the Wilson administration.

FARM WAGES

Do you want a nice job, very hard labor, 10 hours or more a day, said job paying $38.18 a month with meals included—or $46.91 without board? These were the average wages paid to farmhands in the United States during 1923, according to the Department of Agriculture. If you want to compare this with former years, here's the information showing average monthly wages for male labor:

YEAR	WITH BOARD	WITHOUT BOARD
1923	$38.18	$46.91
1922	29.17	37.72
1921	21.03	29.53

"The peak year in wages to farm labor in recent years was 1920," the department reports. "The deflation of general prices then began and farm wage rates continued to decline until the fall of 1922, when an upward trend developed."

Farmers are unable to pay as high wages as are paid for labor in the cities, because their produce for some reason did not share the increase in price that seemed to affect nearly all other commodities. As a result the farming industry suffered from dull business. The commodities the farmers had to sell were low priced, while those they found it necessary to buy were high priced.

The tariff injured the farmers of this country instead of helping them by increasing the price of all farm implements and causing European countries to buy their wheat chiefly from Canada. It is not surprising that we have a farm bloc in congress and that insurgency has broken out in the republican party.

OUR COLLEGE AMAZONS

There was some very plain talk at that Lutheran Educational Conference held at the Hotel Astor the other day when Rev. Charles J. Smith, president of Branchville college, said:

"The daughters of our so-called best people go out armed soundly in clothing, but abundantly in paint; a bottle of liquor, not on the hip, but in the handbag; dance as voluptuously as possible, to be cut in on about every other step so as to appear popular, all for frequent interruptions to give opportunities for them to stretch their thirst from the bottle; and with the man of their choice engaged in violent putting parties in the luxurious retreat of a big limousine."

Discussing the social life of college students, he said it is endangered by "an army of hard-drinking, cigarette-puffing Amazons." It is difficult to believe that the conditions of college life are as bad as alleged by this speaker, although as a college president he should have an opportunity to know whereof he speaks. Conditions such as he describes may prevail at certain colleges part of the time; but we cannot believe that they are general or that it remained for Rev. Mr. Smith to make such a startling discovery. Conditions such as he describes were found at a Rhode Island college a few years ago, but were soon remedied. Possibly the liberties allowed in co-educational institutions are responsible for such conditions wherever they may exist. It may be, however, that Rev. Mr. Smith is a sensationalist who, if called upon for facts in support of his charges, would be unable to give anything to justify such a sweeping charge against college women.

RELEASE LEUT. GRIFFIS

All the department commanders of the American Legion are in favor of the release from a German prison of Leut. Griffiths who was captured in Germany while trying to arrest the traitor Grover Cleveland Meredith and have him court-martialed as he deserved. Griffiths was captured, and although he was sentenced to 18 months at hard labor, the Legion commanders and many of the most prominent citizens of the country have started a movement to secure the release of this daring young soldier. Whether the Germans will pay any attention to the appeal remains to be seen. Germany is seeking favors from the United States and will rather surrender the object of the movement will be inclined to grant the request for Griffith's release.

COST OF LIVING

From a report just issued by the Commission on the Necessaries of Life, of which Eugene C. Hultman is chairman, it appears that the cost of living in Massachusetts at the present time is 65 per cent higher than in 1913. During the past year the prices of some commodities such as coal, sugar, butter, eggs and potatoes showed wide fluctuations. The commission finds that the value of real estate and the rentals of tenements have kept close to the high figures of 1920 and that there is little prospect of a reduction in these under present conditions. For this there are several reasons, including the shortage in the number of dwellings, the scarcity of lumber for building material, and the limited supply of artisans which has enabled them to charge extraordinarily high wages.

The Poor Book

It sent $5 to a concern that advertised an audience for keeping his little dog, said Hobson. "I got it this morning." "What did they send you?" asked Hobson. "A paperweight," replied Hobson sadly.

Puzzling Story

A rural transgressor was sentenced to a day in the county jail or a fine of $10. He decided on the former, knowing he had business in the town, but when he got there he changed his mind and paid the fine. He transacted the business, claimed expenses for the return journey, which the officials felt obliged to pay, and was home with $5 to the good.

Taking a Chance

The hobo who had been starved out of his profession and in desperation taken to looking for work had met with little success. Almost he had resigned himself again to the ranks of the miserably poor, when he passed a police station with a burglar placed. "Murderer," "Ward," he considered while he scratched his head, "it's risky, but better than nothing, I'm going in and ask for that job."

Very Durable

"What is this?" asked Brown. "A wedding present," replied Jones. "What is it good for?" Brown asked. "It is just a wedding present," "I don't understand," "It's this way," explained the merchant patiently, "You give it to your friend as a wedding present. Pretty soon a friend of his gets married. He passes it on, and so it goes. It is very durable."

Chinese Skywriters

An American builder visited an Italian city and struck up an acquaintance with a native in the same line. The Chinese builder thought the town ought to put up some skywriters, to which the tourist assented. "Could we get some experts from your country?" was the next inquiry. "Sure," and how should we neglect? "Well," replied the American, "if I were you I'd advertise for structural steel workers who understand bamboo."

The Little Prison Graveyard

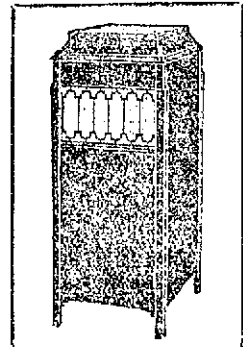

The sea gulls soar above it, flying to and fro. A bull bays a warning note and under whistles blow. Stately strolling them on a path, the graves of unknown prisoners, human beings that have died. The little wooden crosses are planted in rows. The soil is salt and sandy and only rank weeds grow. It seems so lonely, dreary, devoid of hope or life.

The little prison graveyard on an island in the sea. No monument to mark the place, the place of those who cried. No one knows above the graves, a prayer is seldom heard. They lived their lives as outcasts, they sleep as outcasts still. As they "slept" so have they "waked," may be the Father's will. And yet I love to think that they are not unknown at all.

The final judge, who summoned them, "who notes the sparrows' fall." Who knew their faults and virtues may have said "come unto Me." To the ones who sleep forever on that island in the sea. JAMES W. GIBBONS.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

A new departure in collegiate shows will be inaugurated when the Dartmouth presentation of "The Play-ers" is given, for the female roles are to be taken by real honest-to-goodness girls instead of by masculines heavily powdered to hide the marks of a heavy beard sleeping beneath the surface of the skin. It is hard for the hero to get a love scene convincingly when he knows that the object of his adoration is in reality a roommate or athletic friend, although many of the makeups are clever, as those who witnessed last year's show by the Textile school can testify, and also those who saw "Ham Brigham" at the Vassar college competition for beautiful girls where he almost won from the genuine young ladies by his clever disguise. If the experiment proves successful at Dartmouth we may expect to see other colleges, and in particular those that are educational, taking up the plan and abandoning the all-male shows.

Members of the Spanish War Veterans were well represented in the exercises attendant upon the installation of officers in the Walker-Rogers Post, 682, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars last Tuesday evening. A closer bond than having been soldiers in the United States army links these men together, for all of them have seen service during actual warfare, on a foreign soil and the wide expanse of country that has been their place of service has afforded them a vast experience and wealth of anecdote, the recounting of which links them closer in the bonds of fellowship.

Churence Weed, principal of the State Normal school, has instituted several series of lectures this year, all of which deal with problems the girls in the school must face as soon as they leave to take up teaching, and perhaps the best lecture course of all is the one now running, on the "Perils of the Creditors." In this course every angle of the game of swindling is being explained by competent lecturers, thoroughly preparing the girls to go out and teach their pupils in the future how to avoid the lure of the men who promise abnormal profits, and to take care of their money in a sane way instead of gambling it in securities that are bound to prove unsound.

The men who devote all their time to working out the details of the Pershing plan, or the C.M.T.C., have already commenced laying their plans for the coming summer. After a three year trial, army authorities are thoroughly convinced that this plan of training the youth of the country is the best insurance possible against another war like the last one. Particularly enough, Lowell, which is the nearest large city to the camp, has never yet sent its complete quota of boys to Devens to take advantage of the beautiful and educational advantages offered there, and of the 123 who graduated last year in the final course, there was only one representative from this city. About one out of every hundred who start the course finish the training.

A log is kept at the Auditorium, in which all the celebrities who visit the city to visit or to give recitals of grand opera, are asked to inscribe their signatures. Practically every notable who has set foot inside the building, since it was first opened to the public, has left this sign of his visit in the book and a fine collection will be first. Maybe they'll be used together. Right now, both are toys. So was the airplane in its early days.

A stenographer sees a dentist for $50,000, claiming he spoiled her beauty by extracting the wrong two teeth. If two teeth are worth that much, you can figure the value of your whole body—and find yourself a millionaire. However, on perusing the dental, we learn that the teeth in question were wisdom teeth.

DRAFT TOWN WARRANT The time limit for filing articles to be inserted in the coming town warrant in Dracut expires tonight. The annual meeting of the voters will be held in February. Political forces in the different villages are busy. The republican town committee had a meeting scheduled for Thursday evening, but owing to the illness of Chairman Edward Bennett, no business was transacted. The committee will meet again on Jan. 15.

RESOLUTION

Time was I said, "I firmly vow
I will not throw my time away
In playing auction bridge!" But now
I play.

I fell at last for bridge, but I
Vociferate with leather lung
"I never do intend to try
Mah Jong!"

You'll not be 'druggin' me around
To play Mah Jong. My will is strong.
(You say this is the proper sound
Mah Jong?)

All right, pronounce it as you may.
You won't bamboozle me along,
I absolutely will not play
Mah Jong.

You waste your wind, your words I spurn,
You tempt me not at all, I vow
I swear I quite decline to learn
Pung Chow.

Cards cost me fifty cents a pack,
Mah Jong costs fifty bucks a set,
That's altogether too much jack,
You bet.

Pool, bowling, billiard and poker—say
I play them nuchly, right along
They are enough—I will not play
Mah Jong.

At every game I've ever struck,
I'm almost always badly stung,
And so I very wisely duck
Mah Jong!

TANGO STEPS OF COUNT WON MISS ROGERS

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—The tango steps of Count Ludwig Salm-Yon Hoogstraeten are said to have captured the heart of Millicent Rogers and brought her to the altar at city hall last Tuesday when they arrived without wedding ring all because it was so sudden. The tango steps, however, are said not to have been so appealing to the young woman's parents and there are reports that Col. H. H. Rogers, father of the bride, frowned severely on the match, because the count is an Austrian and divorced.

HOUSE WAS BADLY DAMAGED BY FIRE

An unoccupied house at 120 High St. was badly damaged late last night by a fire of unknown origin which broke out in a closet on the second floor and had spread into the partitions and into a blind attic before being discovered.

An alarm from box 52 was sounded at 11 o'clock. Upon the arrival of the fire apparatus the whole second floor of the building and a section of the roof were ablaze. Before the fire could be extinguished it was necessary to rip out partitions and bring into play several lines of hose. The recall was sounded at 11:30 o'clock.

Chief Saunders investigated the fire but, owing to the fact that all evidence near where the fire started was completely destroyed, was unable to make a definite decision as to the cause. He believes, however, that boys playing in the house during the day may have left some material smoldering in the closet that later burst into flames.

RECEIVE OFFICIAL REMOVED
WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—W. P. Leal, district manager of the veterans' bureau office at New York, has been relieved by Director Hines, pending a complete investigation of charges that liquor parties had been held in the district office there and that liquor was carried to a dinner at a hotel in a veterans' bureau automobile.

WILL CLOSE THEIR ENGAGEMENT HERE

Victor Browne and Hazel Corinne, leading players of the Lutteringer Stock company here, today made known that they will close their engagement in Lowell a week from tomorrow night.

Mr. Browne is an old Lowell favorite. He first appeared here a dozen or fifteen years ago. He has been leading man with the present company for the past two seasons and has many friends. Miss Corinne opened the season here with the company and is an actress of pleasing personality and exceptional talent.

Their future plans were not disclosed. The management of the Opera House announced new leading players will open Jan. 21 in "Little Old New York." Many theatre-goers assumed that Ina May and Melvyn MacLennan and Edna Earl Andrews are to play the leads in Madame X next week that they might be continued as leaders when Mr. Browne and Miss Corinne leave. Such is not the case, however.

Next week with Madame X as the main attraction, will be "farewell week" for the present leading members of the popular company.

APPROPRIATION ESTIMATE BLANKS

Appropriation estimate blanks for 1924 already ordered by the budget and audit commission, will be ready for distribution to departmental heads early next week and it is expected that a maximum time allowance of one week only will be given for their submission to the commission. Although this time allowance may seem short, it is taken for granted that all departments have been working on their 1924 figures and not more than a week after receipt of the estimate blanks will be necessary for their completion. It is expected, therefore, that all estimates for the current year will be in the hands of the budget commission by the 22nd at the latest.

SEVERAL HURT IN WRECK
HUNTSVILLE, Ala., Jan. 11.—Several persons were reported hurt in a wreck of Southern Railway Memphis Special No. 26, east-bound for New York, near Chase, Ala., today. Four cars are reported in the ditch.

THE MEN WHO BUILT THE BIG CHIMNEY

Thousands of Lowell citizens have wondered and shivered as they gazed askance at lanky workmen appearing to be no larger than Lilliputians constructing the new 215-foot steel smokestack at the Lowell Electric light corporation plant on Perry St., as described in Thursday's Sun. Most of the sky-gazers have desired to know where the nifty steel workers came from and who they might be.

Here they are, then. Five in all, a mighty courageous collection of muscular and steady nerves though small in composite numbers—who have built the new smokestack of steel shells and expertly riveted them together with five-pound bolts from bottom to top without dropping a bolt. William French, William Gustin, Arthur Riner, "Jim" Pearson and "Jack" French, all of Boston.

The big five are all members of Boston local, No. 7, Bridge and Structural Iron Workers. The "gang" is employed by the structural steel concern, Daniel Marr & Son of South Boston, builders of many iron smokestacks and tall chimneys in many sections of the country.

HOUSE DISCUSSES APPROPRIATION BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—General discussion of the interior department appropriation bill continued in the house today while its foreign affairs committee resumed consideration behind closed doors of the resolution introduced by Representative Fairchild, republican, New York, to prohibit the sale of government war materials to other nations.

The senate was in recess over the week-end.

SUMMARY OF EARLY MORNING A. P. NEWS

SUMMARY OF
Lady Astor at dinner for eight women members of British commons, declared she is happy for the company of women in parliament, for she was often humbled when alone.

BIG JOB NOW TO KEEP CRIMINALS OUT OF PHILADELPHIA

Brig. Gen. Butler Well Satisfied With Campaign to Rid City of Vice and Crime—New Men Replace Eight Police Officers Suspended Yesterday

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 11.—Before leaving for his home early today to snatch a few hours' sleep, Brig. Gen. Smalley D. Butler expressed satisfaction with conditions as he had found them at the end of the fourth day of his campaign to rid the city of vice and crime.

"We shall drive right along," said General Butler. "Any knock that appears in the machinery will be taken out so that it will run smoothly." He said he believed that most of the law breakers had been run out of the city and that the big job now was to keep them out.

The general lost no time in filling the places of the six police lieutenants and two sergeants suspended yesterday when, at the end of the 48 hour limit, they had failed to clean up their districts to his satisfaction. But, he said, the replacements will have to show they mean business. "They will be given 48 hours in which to clean up, and if they don't do it, they'll go out."

Under the civil service commission law, the suspended men will have five days in which to show cause why they should not be demoted. Unless they are successful in so doing, the general said, they would be sent back to the ranks of the patrolmen and given beats in the various districts.

While Gen. Butler was shaking up the executive personnel of the police, raids on questionable resorts were being conducted in nearly every district in the city.

LEADER OF OUTLAW BAND CAPTURED

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press) Bill Ashley, one of the leaders of the Ashley band of outlaws, was captured in the Florida Everglades near Gomez station, early today, according to reports received by the sheriff's office. The apprehension of his brother, John, was expected to follow as they were known to have been together.

AMERICAN OIL MEN IGNORE DEMAND

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—American oil companies with property in the Tampam district have no present intention of complying with the mandate of Adolfo de la Huerta, leader of the Mexican revolutionary forces, that each company loan him 20,000 pesos or approximately $10,000 each, spokesmen for the companies said today.

TAX BILL COMES BEFORE BONUS

House Republicans Favor Reporting Tax Bill Before Acting on Soldiers' Bonus

Ways and Means Committee Instructed to Report Tax Bill Before Feb. 11

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Instructions have been given the house ways and means committee to report the tax bill on or before Feb. 11. After that date, it is to take up soldiers' bonus legislation to determine whether an adjusted compensation bill should be reported.

The program was decided upon last night at a conference of house republicans who refused, however, to pledge themselves to the passage at this session of congress of either tax or bonus legislation.

Representative Lowmeyer, the party leader, with others who believed taxation should have the right of way, checked the faction advocating bonus action at every turn.

At the outset of the meeting, which was behind closed doors, Mr. Lowmeyer proposed that the ways and means committee be instructed to continue consideration of the tax bill "to the exclusion of all other general legislative propositions, with a view to making a report by February 11, after which time it should proceed to consideration of bonus legislation."

Two amendments were offered to the Lowmeyer resolution and both were reported.

Representative Fairchild of New York, proposed a stipulation that a bonus bill be reported "as soon as possible." This proposal was rejected 10 to 85. The other amendment offered by Representative Fish of New York, a war veteran, fixed February 25 as the latest date for a report on bonus legislation. On a roll call the amendment was lost, 69 to 37.

AMHERST FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

Fawcett, includes a game with Princeton tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 p. m. and a game with Harvard on Saturday, Jan. 13, at 1:30 p. m. The schedule lists eight contests instead of seven as heretofore. The schedule:

September 27, St. Lawrence at Amherst; October 4, Princeton at Amherst; October 11, Bowdoin at Amherst; October 18, Wesleyan at Amherst; October 25, Amherst at Amherst; November 1, Massachusetts Agricultural college at MAAC; November 8, Union at Amherst; November 15, Williams at Amherst.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Violent south-east winds that reached a velocity of 74 miles an hour blew off Sandy Hook today, preventing a number of small sailing and steam vessels in the coastwise trade from venturing out of the bay.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH WAR

St. Marks-in-the-Bouwerie

May Withdraw From Bishop Manning's Diocese

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—The Protestant Episcopal diocese of New York, of which William T. Manning is bishop, today faced the possibility of the withdrawal of St. Marks-in-the-Bouwerie, one of the oldest churches in the United States.

The church, of which Dr. William Norman Guthrie is rector, may withdraw unless Bishop Manning at a meeting Monday with Dr. Guthrie and his vestrymen consents to continuance in St. Mark's church and parish hall of alleged pagan services to which he recently took exception.

Monday is the expiration day of a time allowance given Dr. Guthrie at a recent meeting when Bishop Manning was understood to have notified the rector he must modify or altogether eliminate symbolic services, including dances in which scantily clad young women took part.

Cleanup in Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 11.—Cleveland today is free of gambling, then it has been for many years. In the belief of Chief of Police Jacob Graul, and now the ultimatum of Safety Director Edwin D. Barry to clean up the city has been extended to include war on loafers.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 11.—The Atlanta Journal today is publishing what it terms as "a generally credited report" that William Joseph Simmons, imperial emperor and founder of the Ku Klux Klan, and Edward Young Clarke, imperial giant, had been expelled from the Klan for their opposition to the regime headed by Dr. Hiram Wesley Evans, imperial wizard.

The church, of which Dr. William Norman Guthrie is rector, may withdraw unless Bishop Manning at a meeting Monday with Dr. Guthrie and his vestrymen consents to continuance in St. Mark's church and parish hall of alleged pagan services to which he recently took exception.

SAYS BELGIUM FOUGHT FOR AMERICA

BRUSSELS, Jan. 11.—"It cannot be denied that we fought for America and that we helped her, consequently we are entitled to expect help from her," said the socialist Senator Henri La Fontaine during the debate on Belgium's foreign policy yesterday.

"Our government," he continued, "ought to have the courage to tell this to the American people." He also drew a parallel between the allies and the United States, representing the latter as being saturated with gold while the allies were struggling under their financial burdens. He caused an uproar when he alluded to the necessity of contribution towards Germany and when he said he suspected Belgian financiers of being interested in munition factories.

Senator La Fontaine is vice president of the senate. He won the Nobel peace prize in 1912.

WASHINGTON.—Transfer of river and harbor work from army to civilian engineers specifically approved by Secretary Weeks at the congressional reorganization committee hearing.

The couple were indicted in connection with their marriage at Union Hill on October 2. Mr. Tucker gave his age as 21 in applying for the marriage license, while his father, Joseph Tucker, postmaster at South Essex, Mass., testified at the grand jury hearing that his son was 17 years old. Mrs. Tucker, who was formerly Mrs. Susan Simpson, is said to be about 48 years of age.

BODY MAY BE THAT OF MISSING U. S. AIRMAN

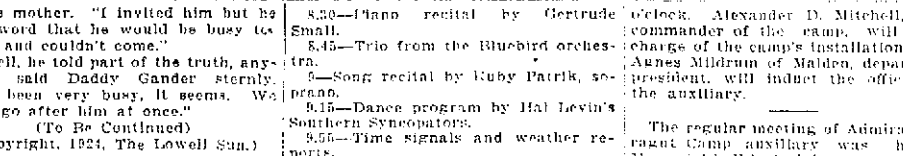

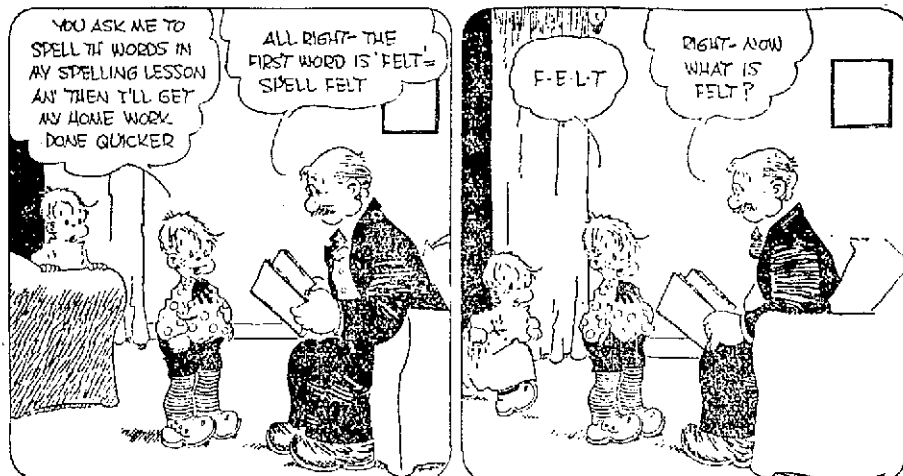

LONDON, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press) A body believed to be that of Lawrence R. Sperry, American aviator missing since Dec. 12, was found today at a place called the Gap, near Rye, Essex.

The body, which was lying on the shore when discovered, has not been definitely identified but the garments are said to correspond to those worn by Sperry.

P. R. Jackson, London manager for the Sperry company, has sent a man who knew Sperry to the scene to attempt identification of the body. The body, which was badly decomposed, was found by a local resident on the beach about one and a quarter miles west of Jurys Gap, midway between the Gap and Rye. The relatives of Mr. Sperry in America have been notified although the body has not been identified.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press) An agent of the Sperry Co., sent to the Essex shore to view the body discovered there, reported this afternoon that he was unable to identify it as that of Lawrence R. Sperry, the American aviator who has been missing since Dec. 12.

British Prognosticator Says
Mexico City Will Be De-

Fear-Stricken People Prepar-

MADISON, Conn., Jan. 11.—(Via radio, via the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.) (By the Associated Press.) The revolution has been crowded from the public mind and the front pages of newspapers here in the last few days by the prophecy of a British prognosticator that Mexico City would be destroyed by an earthquake and volcanic eruptions tomorrow. As a result of the prophecy, fear has gripped the minds of the ignorant, superstitious classes and for the last few days, they have been crowding the churches.

Many are preparing to leave on short notice for the suburbs to escape falling buildings.

The fear-stricken people have taken as an all too common the fact that the volcano Popocatepetl, overlooking the city, has been emitting smoke in the early mornings of the last few days.

Called reports of events of the outside world are being cited by believers in the prophecy. They point to front page displays of the extreme cold in the United States, storms off the British coast, floods in France, avalanches in the Alps and recent earthquake disturbances in the states of Sonora and Chihuahua as proof for their belief.

Mrs. Bassett, summoned by Mrs. Sanderson from her Florida orange grove which he had been managing was ignored by his wife as he called last night at the postoffice where she was working. He went straight to the postoffice after visiting Mrs. Sanderson in New York and resigning his job. He explained his resignation was due to unfortunate publicity, which had been given him and Mrs. Sanderson. The novelist had telegraphed him to come home and arrange his domestic affairs.

He told townpeople that Mrs. Bassett was mistaken in her views of his relations with the novelist. Mrs. Bassett has said that Mrs. Sanderson asked her to get a divorce and it has been said by her lawyer that she contemplates no legal proceeding of any kind involving her husband.

Mrs. Bassett kept in the back of the postoffice behind a partition while her husband was out front trying to see her. After waiting some time Bassett left the office and later Mrs. Bassett was driven in a friend's automo-

The revolution has been crowded from the public mind and the front pages of newspapers here in the last few days by the prophecy of a British prognosticator that Mexico City would be destroyed by an earthquake and volcanic eruptions tomorrow. As a result of the prophecy, fear has gripped the minds of the ignorant, superstitious classes and for the last few days, they have been crowding the churches.

Many are preparing to leave on short notice for the suburbs to escape falling buildings.

The fear-stricken people have taken as an all too common the fact that the volcano Popocatepetl, overlooking the city, has been emitting smoke in the early mornings of the last few days.

Called reports of events of the outside world are being cited by believers in the prophecy. They point to front page displays of the extreme cold in the United States, storms off the British coast, floods in France, avalanches in the Alps and recent earthquake disturbances in the states of Sonora and Chihuahua as proof for their belief.

Mrs. Bassett, summoned by Mrs. Sanderson from her Florida orange grove which he had been managing was ignored by his wife as he called last night at the postoffice where she was working. He went straight to the postoffice after visiting Mrs. Sanderson in New York and resigning his job. He explained his resignation was due to unfortunate publicity, which had been given him and Mrs. Sanderson. The novelist had telegraphed him to come home and arrange his domestic affairs.

He told townpeople that Mrs. Bassett was mistaken in her views of his relations with the novelist. Mrs. Bassett has said that Mrs. Sanderson asked her to get a divorce and it has been said by her lawyer that she contemplates no legal proceeding of any kind involving her husband.

Mrs. Bassett kept in the back of the postoffice behind a partition while her husband was out front trying to see her. After waiting some time Bassett left the office and later Mrs. Bassett was driven in a friend's automo-

ANNUAL ST. PATRICK'S DAY CONVENTION

The annual St. Patrick's day convention of the local divisions of the A.O.H. will be held in Liberty hall, Memorial Auditorium, next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Representatives of the United Irish societies of Lowell and suburbs will be in attendance.

This will mark the 53rd convention held in this city. Its purpose is to determine on a St. Patrick's day celebration. In past years, this organization was responsible for elaborate St. Patrick's day parades, charity and relief fund concerts. Last year a concert was held in the Memorial Auditorium in aid of the A.O.H. building fund and proved a big success.

It is expected that Rev. John J. McGarry D.D., pastor of St. Patrick's church will be present and speak at next Sunday's meeting; also Mayor Johnson and Daniel J. Murphy, the oldest member in the state.

The present officers of the organization are: President John Barrett; secretary, Stephen Flynn; treasurer, Thomas J. Fitzgerald.

WAITING FOR SIREN NO-SCHOOL SIGNAL

The school department daily is expecting another siren no-school signal from the American-LaFrance Co. for the purpose of a trial. The new signal is considerably larger than the one previously tried out and found wanting.

LOWLY SINKER DROPS IN COST

The lowly sinker, as synonymous to breakfast coffee as bacon is to eggs, has fallen from the dizzy altitudes reached in the price hoisting processes of 1918 and for the first time in five years is back at the old price of two for five.

One of the principal food foundries in the square this morning had its counter placarded with the good news. Of course the doughnuts are a little less in diameter but then, as the counterman surely explained, the hole is bigger.

He figures that by selling two doughnuts for a nickel instead of one, the average person will buy two cups of coffee instead of one. There's some logic there.

and also has a more powerful generating motor.

Business Agent Henry L. Williams has been instructed by the school committee to obtain any kind of a signal he thinks will answer the purpose, either steam or electric, and it is probable that several will be tried out before any recommendation is made to the board as to purchase.

INCOME TAX RETURNS

Over 100 income tax returns have been filed at the federal office in the postoffice building in Cornhill street, thus far, in the ten days that have passed since they were first mailed. This number is a large increase over the number returned in a similar period last year, and officials at the office stated this morning that so far all the returns had been accompanied by checks for the full amount due. Instead of the first installment, as is allowed by the government regulations, indicating that there is more ready money among the people of this section this year.

Record of Local Office Held Up as Achievement Worthy of Emulation

The Lowell division of the organized Reserve leads all other unit divisions of the Reserve recruiting department in the whole country in the number of men enlisted and commissioned. In no other city in the country has the reserve met with such success that Maj. Tooley, local executive officer, has been complimented on several occasions by his superior officers for the results obtained by the Lowell office.

MAJ. FRANCIS J. TOOLEY, C.A.C.

The local office was opened here in March, 1922, with Major Francis J. Tooley, C.A.C., as executive officer. In April Maj. Tooley was appointed executive officer of the reserve for the coast defenses of Boston and immediately began recruiting for the Coast Artillery Reserve. To assist Private Howard Mitchell in the clerical work connected with the Coast Artillery recruiting, Private Roland E. Ellis, a Lowell boy with two years regular army service, was detailed to the Lowell office.

First Reserve Band in Nation

At the present time the total enlisted strength of all units allocated to the Lowell office is 152 the majority being non-commissioned officers. Commissioners have been granted 157 applications, ranging from second lieutenant to lieutenant-colonel. In addition there has been formed the 38th P. A. band of over 20 pieces, the first army strength band to be recruited into the Organized Reserve.

At a meeting of the reserve executive officers in Boston Tuesday complete mobilization plans were given to the executive officer of each unit office and in case of emergency these mobilization plans will be put into immediate use.

Plan Summer Training

Plans for the training of reserve troops were also discussed at this meeting and it was decided to train by unit this summer instead of by company of various divisions. It is expected that two Lowell coast defense companies will be ordered to the coast artillery training camp and one artillery and one engineer company to Devens.

WAGE ADVANCE FOR CITY MEN

Employees of Two Departments Get Increase on Recommendation of Mayor

New Schedule Calls for $5.20 Per Day, Same as in Street Department

Wage increases for employees of the water works department and the division of ashes and waste collection were voted by the board of public service at its regular weekly meeting late yesterday afternoon. The new schedule will be $5.20 per day for men in both departments, the same as is in force in the street department and represents advances from $4.50 and $4.75 per day.

The increase was voted by the board upon request of Mayor Jean J. Donovan, who declared for such an equalization in his inaugural address. He believes employees of these three departments should labor upon a common wage plane and therefore asked the board to vote the advances and make it retroactive to January 1.

It is figured that the increase will add approximately $20,000 to the wage schedule of departments coming under the jurisdiction of the board this year. The request for an increase first came from the men of the water department and ash division a year ago, but the mayor said at that time that the financial condition of the city would not allow it, although he promised to give it his attention early in 1924.

New Street Sweeping Machine

Yesterday afternoon's meeting was preceded by a conference between the mayor and the board at which a number of things of current interest and importance were discussed and later acted upon at the business session. One was the purchase of a new Elgin street sweeping machine, which must, with unanimous approval and the endorsement of the board, be requisitioned covering it. It will be delivered about March 1. The purchase price is $6650.

The mayor also discussed with the board the proposed Hall and Alken street widening and asked why the job had not been started. The board said the delay was due principally to plans and specifications which they believed should be gone into in greater detail. It finally was decided that the city engineer should engage an architect to draw up such specifications for presentation to the board at its meeting next week if possible. As soon as such plans are approved bids will be asked for the destruction of the property necessary to allow the corner to be widened.

Horsemen's Request Denied

The board considered a request from A. C. Trust that Middlesex street be closed on Saturday afternoon, from the Franklin school to Walker street, to allow horse racing on the snow. The request reached the mayor's office yesterday noon and was submitted to the board for action. The board denied the request, feeling that too much responsibility would rest upon the city and that it would be liable for any damage resulting from such sport.

A communication was received from the chamber of commerce commending the street department for the manner in which snow was removed from downtown streets last Saturday and Sunday, and in connection with this Fred G. Leary of the board suggested that more snow-plow attachments be purchased for use on hired trucks if an emergency should arise. He thought three attachments should be bought and acting upon his motion the board authorized the superintendent of streets to submit requisitions for their purchase through the office of the purchasing agent.

M. F. Connor submitted a bill for $132 for sand delivered to the city last year. It was laid over one week to allow for a hearing.

de Castilla No. 22, P.F.A. will be held this evening in the A.M.A. hall. Rev. E. Boland M. L. chaplain of the court will address the members. All members of the guard are urged to be at the hall at 7 o'clock as a drill session will be held previous to the meeting.
